

Changes Seen In Hanoi Policy On U.S. POWs

Service Wives
Allowed to Talk
To N. Vietnamese

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam's willingness to see wives of imprisoned U.S. servicemen is being viewed here as a hopeful sign Hanoi may be re-evaluating its prisoner of war policies.

Pentagon officials also indicate belief the North Vietnamese move is a reaction to a Nixon administration campaign to focus international attention on the handling of American POWs.

This assessment came after North Vietnamese diplomats in Paris said Tuesday they would receive a new group of American women seeking information about husbands missing in the war.

Only a few days earlier the North Vietnamese delegation had for the first time met with four other American wives from Dallas, Tex., trying to find out whether their husbands are dead or alive.

See Encouragement

While North Vietnam's attitude toward such private meetings may prove to be of no significance, any sign of movement on the POW problem is encouraging, Pentagon officials say.

"They have had an indefensible world position," commented one official involved in day-to-day dealings with POW matters. "It has been not only wrong but also not smart. Now they may be looking for a way to ease themselves out of the fire."

North Vietnam may be holding as many as 900 Americans, most of them fliers shot down during the air war. The number is uncertain because Hanoi steadfastly has refused to provide a name list—an act which violates international agreements.

Avoided Comments

The Pentagon's official list of captured men totals 413 but there are 919 names on the missing list and many of those are believed imprisoned.

For a time, especially in the months preceding the opening of the Paris negotiations, the United States avoided making any possibly inflammatory public comments about North Vietnam's attitude on the prisoner issue, fearing the captured men might suffer, officials explain.

But with passage of time and no success in Paris, the U.S. changed almost to a "what-have-we-got-to-lose" attitude. With Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird leading the way, American officials have begun castigating the North Vietnamese, focusing on four major demands that:

—The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong identify prisoners they hold.

—Release the seriously sick and injured men.

—Permit impartial inspections of all prisoner of war facilities.

—Permit the free exchange of mail between prisoners and their families.

Pentagon officials say that despite some encouraging pre-Paris comments by Hanoi's chief negotiator, Xuan Thuy, the North Vietnamese have settled on one hard bargaining position on the prisoner issue: That the question of freeing the POWs hinges on agreements to end the war.

Only nine men have been freed by North Vietnam in the past five years, and all came from the same prison camp in the Hanoi area. Hundreds are believed held in about five camps.

Deny Any Killing

Berets Back in U.S.

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Seven Green Berets, against whom charges of murdering an alleged Vietnamese double agent have been dropped, returned to the United States today and headed for their homes.

Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, former commander of the Green Berets in Vietnam and the top-ranking among the men, said he hoped the incident "would be forgotten. So long as people remember that we were exonerated."

Rheault and six other Berets arrived at 3:15 a.m. CDT after a flight from Vietnam aboard a chartered jetliner that brought 219 persons here.

An Army spokesman said they were released upon arrival for 30-days' leave.

Doesn't Understand
Rheault said he, the five other officers and two enlisted men did not know Thai Khac Chuyen, their alleged victim. He insisted there was no evidence that the man had been killed.

Col. Robert Rheault acts as spokesman for a group of Green Berets who arrived at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., this morning. Rheault denied knowledge of a double agent who allegedly was slain in Vietnam.

Rheault said he could not understand why the murder and conspiracy charges were filed against them.

Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor announced Monday the charges against all eight had been dropped after the Central Intelligence Agency, for security reasons, declined to let its agents testify. He said the CIA action precluded a fair trial.

With Rheault, of Vineyard Haven, Mass., were Capt. Robert F. Marasco, 27, Bloomfield, N.J.; Maj. Thomas C. Middleton Jr., 29, Jefferson, S.C.; Maj. David Crew, 33, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Capt. Leland J. Brumley, 27, Duncan, Okla.; Capt. Budge E. Williams, 27, Athens, Ga.; and CWO2 Edward M. Boyle, 26, of New York.

Separate Flight

All had been charged with murder and conspiracy. Charges were held in abeyance for Boyle and Sgt. I.C. Alvin L. Smith Jr., 41, of Naples, Fla.

Smith was aboard a separate flight to the United States, after his departure from Vietnam was delayed in processing.

Rheault refused to elaborate on his brief statement concerning Thai Khac Chuyen, who the Army charges said was slain June 20 near the Special Forces headquarters at Nha Trang.

As the men stepped from the plane they were greeted by attorney Henry Rothblatt of New York, who represented Crew, Brumley and Boyle. Rothblatt told reporters he feels the men were charged because of a "personal vendetta" by Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Rheault was asked how he would like to see history record the incident. He replied, "I'd rather not see it recorded. It's not a particularly valid historical incident. I think it would better be forgotten, so long as people remember that we were exonerated."

When asked later in the conference, "Do you deny, colonel, that there was a killing?" Rheault declared: "That is correct."

Judge Demands Arrest of Groppi

Priest Insists Capitol Protest Will Continue

MILWAUKEE (AP) — County Judge F. Ryan Duffy Jr. ordered the arrest today of the Rev. James E. Groppi, civil rights activist, who led welfare demonstrators and students in a takeover of the Assembly chambers in the state Capitol.

Duffy ordered the Roman Catholic priest picked up and brought before him for a hearing to determine whether he has violated the terms of his probation.

In Madison, Atty. Gen. Robert Warren said he was "confident" there would be other arrests as a result of the demonstrations.

The priest was placed on two year's probation by Judge Duffy on a charge of resisting arrest. The charge resulted from an open housing demonstration in Milwaukee. Police officers testified Groppi kicked and cursed them when they attempted to take him into custody.

Following his conviction after a jury trial, Groppi was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction. Duffy stayed the jail term, however, and placed Groppi on probation which, he said, the court would revoke if during the probationary period Groppi "is arrested again and convicted for any civil disorder, civil disobedience or any other crime whatsoever."

On Sept. 21, Groppi was arrested in suburban Brookfield at the start of the march of welfare recipients to Madison. He was charged with violating a new local anti-picketing ordinance.

The priest and four others were charged after they allegedly demonstrated at the home of Assemblyman Kenneth Merkle.

Chief County Probation Officer Paul Kegel said he believed Groppi's probation would be revoked only if Groppi were convicted of violating a state statute.

In Madison, meanwhile, before Duffy's order, Groppi invited students and welfare recipients to join him today in another protest march into the Wisconsin Capitol, challenging an injunction issued after hundreds of demonstrators clogged the building Monday.

"We'll sit there, we'll sing there, we'll pray there," the Roman Catholic priest declared Tuesday night during a rally which capped a second consecutive day of Capitol Square protests.

Negro Woman Remembers:

'Half of Me Was White'

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pauline Price awoke screaming, her nightgown ablaze.

She ran into the yard, a human torch. Neighbors stifled the flames with a blanket, but half her skin was burned away that night of April 24, 1964. A graft offered her only hope for life.

Mrs. Price is a Negro. When she came out of surgery, almost half her skin was white.

Doctors had covered 40 per cent of her body with the only skin available at the time, from a white male corpse.

Mrs. Price was the first human to receive grafts of skin treated with ribonucleic acid (RNA) as a way of combating the process that makes the body reject foreign tissue.

Dr. Weldon Jolley, Loma Linda University microbiologist who originated the technique, says he since has used it in seven burn cases and it prolonged life in all but two.

Surgeons under the direction of Dr. Louis L. Smith of Loma Linda used as much as possible of what remained of Mrs. Price's skin to repair burns that showed, on her neck and arms and legs. But there wasn't enough for the rest of her body.

So 40 per cent of the grafted skin came from a white man who died shortly after she entered the hospital. She now has large patches of white skin on her torso, front and back.

Mrs. Price, 46, a tall, slender domestic worker, says she has lived happily, grateful to be alive. She says she has overcome resentment she felt upon learning white skin had replaced black.

Mrs. Pauline Price

National Guard bayonets joined police in a ring around the Capitol Tuesday as demonstrators picketed.

A assemblymen gathered in their damaged chambers came within two votes of adopting a resolution under which Groppi could have been jailed for contempt of the Legislature.

"Sometimes we have to pay for what we want," Groppi told Tuesday night's rally while announcing his intentions of challenging the injunction.

"Moral Obligation"
"You've got a moral obligation to be there for the mothers," he told UW students, referring to the women who had marched from Milwaukee.

Young coeds participating in Tuesday's picketing chanted: "Power to the mothers." Small knots of hecklers chanted: "Chow for the shiftless."

During a rally, Groppi led a prayer for a National Guard sergeant who died when a truck carrying Guardsmen to Madison from Milwaukee overturned on Interstate 94.

The Republican-controlled Legislature ended its summer recess.

Off Limits Capitol Tourists Unwelcome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — It is a startling and sobering experience for a man who has entered the state Wisconsin state Capitol building thousands of times over the years without interference, to be accosted by a grim-faced militiaman demanding identity papers to determine if his admission to the building which is the seat of Wisconsin government will be permitted.

But that is precisely the situation that confronted statehouse reporters, among others, Tuesday and today as a result of an executive order which had the effect of putting the Capitol off limits to all except a handful of persons — legislators, constitutional state officers, other state employees who could satisfactorily identify themselves and accredited newsmen.

The order was promulgated by the State Department of Administration, with the approval of Gov. Warren P. Knowles, as a result of the occupation of the Capitol by a mob of "poor people" demonstrators led by the militant Milwaukee priest, the Rev. James Groppi.

Knowles Tuesday declared that the embargo against other visitors, including those who believe they have legitimate business in the Capitol (dozens of lobbyists were denied admission) was a necessary precaution in view of the "revolutionary type" activity represented by the Groppi-led mob and that it would remain in effect until "tranquility is restored."

City residents and tourists gaped from the sidewalks as the fully-equipped National Guardsmen formed cordons to screen persons who proposed to enter the building which is one of the principal attractions for visitors to the capital city.

The Capitol resembles a castle whose occupants are worried about another siege and who are determined, as Knowles said, that "nobody will intimidate or coerce the government of Wisconsin."

The governor told a press conference Tuesday afternoon that he remains hopeful about acceptance of his financing package — the ostensible goal of the Groppi raid on the Capitol.

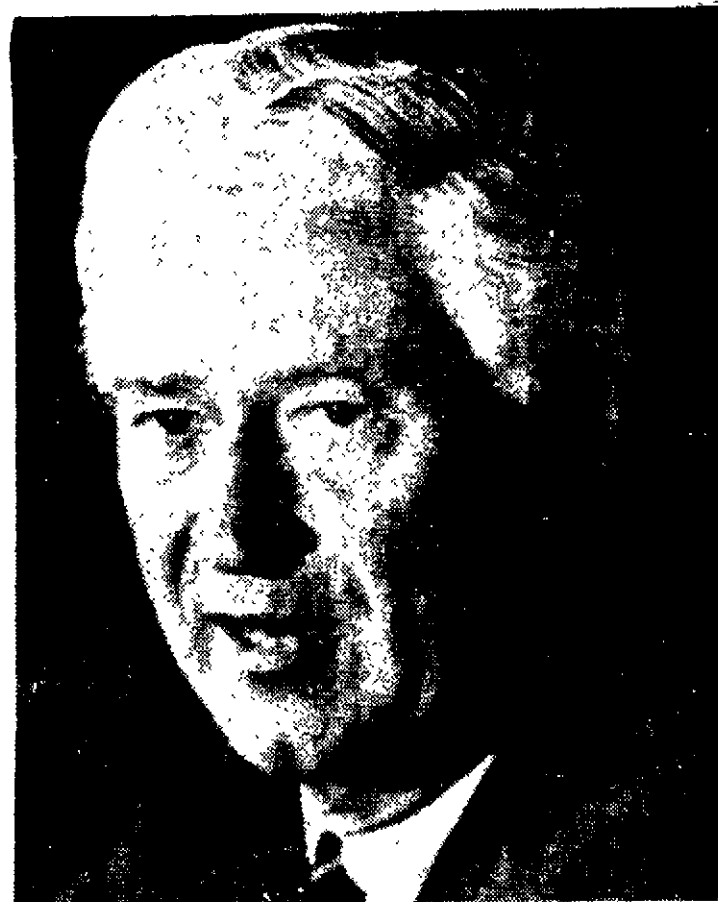

But Knowles apparently knew that they knew the cause was lost, whatever its chances before the disruptive Monday demonstration.

One disillusioned Democrat, a member of a party that had believed the welfare funding issue would hurt the Republicans in the next elections, expostulated angrily:

"You can count me out, and I will take at least 15 Democrats with me."

Without strong Democratic support, according to all pre-session analysis, Knowles will have only the faintest chance of finding the 51 Assembly votes to enact his bill.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles tells newsmen Tuesday he won't tolerate disruptions of the democratic process. The governor was reacting to a disrupted special session of the Legislature Monday by welfare demonstrators. (AP Wirephoto)

I want to jump out of my skin. Now I do baby sitting, or take care of elderly folks, whatever I can get."

Mrs. Price says the fire started after she went to sleep smoking a cigarette. "I still smoke," she says, "but you can bet I don't smoke in bed."

After five years, Dr. Jolley says he still cannot account for the success of treating burns with skin soaked in a solution of RNA, one of the substances in the nucleus of cells which govern the manufacture of new tissue. It seems to inhibit tissue inflammation.

"The strange thing is that this soaking need be done only to the donor tissue, not to the recipient," he said. "Mrs. Price, for instance, received no RNA injections prior to the operation. So somehow, RNA makes the donor tissue acceptable to the recipient."

"It may be that we have been approaching the problem of transplants from the wrong direction. Instead of using drugs to suppress the immune reaction in the recipient, which leaves him vulnerable to diseases, perhaps the way is to neutralize the donor tissue so the recipient will accept it."

belongs in the marriage act (opus personae actui coniugali proprium) is against divine law and the order of marriage; and such behavior is contrary to the integrity of conjugal love." It was further specified that even though the final practical application of universal principles has to be made by the married couple, they must not act "except with a conscience formed according to the teachings of the Church."

The Fathers of the Council made numerous observations and a new text was drawn up. The Adnexa were to a large extent incorporated in it. It was sent to the Fathers on May 28, 1965.

Number of Offspring

On the question of the number of offspring the conciliar Commission observed that "a great number of the Fathers want parents to have as many children as God gives through the working of nature, abandoning themselves to Divine Providence," but a great majority of the Fathers in one way or another, were in favor of so-called responsible parenthood. Only a few (and two of them hesitantly) would not exclude the use of contraceptives in more serious cases.

The Commission adopted the first two opinions, held by such a large number of the Fathers. Apropos of responsible parenthood it recalled the words of Pius XII to the Italian Midwives (Oct. 29, 1951), and to the Association of Christian Families (Nov. 28, 1951), in which "birth regulation" (distinguished thus from so-called birth control) is admitted for medical, eugenic, or social reasons. The text (of the new schema) clearly states that the consciences of parents must be governed by objective laws and the demands of the good of the different orders; and with these words (conscientia lege Dei recte informata) clearly underlines the fact that "wrongful methods are prohibited."

The same conciliar Commission, speaking of responsible parenthood, observed further: "Yielding to the wishes of many of the Fathers, the Sub-Commission and the Mixed Plenary Commission (a) have unequivocally declared that on this topic the conscience of parents must be directed by objective laws, (b) have clearly emphasized that wrongful methods are prohibited by the words conscientia quae lege Dei recte informatur."

The "mind" of the commission was clear and the reference to the teaching of Pius XII about responsible parenthood most timely, for there could have been equivocations in that connection.

The Relator went over the controverted subject once again, more explicitly this time.

Talks Continued

The fourth session of the Council began. At the start there was a continuation of the discussion of the prepared text. But the clear "mind" of the commission was still, to many of the Fathers, not sufficiently clear. They asked that the text be made more precise; every appearance of subjectivism had to be avoided in so delicate a question. Hence, a rewording of the text. In this document, which reaffirmed that the decision regarding the number of offspring belongs without question to the parents, it was unambiguously laid down that the married couple must not be led by their own will but must follow their consciences "enlightened by the Divine Law, and obedient to the Magisterium of the Church, which authentically interprets it in the light of the Gospel."

This is the first explicit mention of the Magisterium of the Church as interpreter of Divine Law.

On the problem of harmonizing conjugal love with the responsible transmission of life, the following statement was introduced: "When there is a question of harmonizing conjugal love with the responsible transmission of life the moral nature of human behavior does not depend solely on sincerity of intention and the evaluation of motives; it depends much more on objective criteria, founded on the very dignity of the human person, in such wise as to preserve the over-all meaning of the self-giving and of human procreation in the context of true love. Formed (imbuti) by these principles, the children of the Church, in regulating births, must not enter upon paths forbidden by the Magisterium." The voting on the schema followed. Numerous modi were proposed. More clarity was asked for. Two of the Fathers claimed that the text was "theologically immature, equivocal, and reticent on certain essentials."

Set Up Commission

The commission replied that nature and goals of love.

it was not its task to solve each and every question that arose in this context, all the more so because the Pope had set up a special ad hoc Commission. In any case the document put in its proper perspective the sacred character of marriage and love, consonant with Pope Pius XI's encyclical Casti Connubii, and the sacred character of fecundity and of many rights and duties inherent to conjugal and family life.

The text was amended and whatever modi had been accepted were inserted into it (Textus denuo recognitus). It contained the teaching already expounded. The teaching that offspring is the most precious gift of marriage was etched even more prominently, the statement that conscience should be "enlightened by Divine Law itself" was altered to "conscience must conform to the Divine Law," followed by other words "obedient to the Magisterium of the Church, etc." already quoted above.

As regards the harmony between conjugal love and the transmission of life, some valuable phrases were introduced: it was stated that the objective criteria which determine the licitness of sexual relations must derive from the nature of the person and from the nature of his acts (in the previous text no mention was made of such acts), it was stated, furthermore, that the over-all meaning of self-giving and of procreation cannot be understood without a sincere devotion to conjugal chastity; it was also stated that the children of the Church (who must "base themselves upon these principles," not merely be "formed" as was said in the previous text) cannot licitly (hence there is no question of a mere recommendation, as might have been erroneously concluded from a reading of the other text) follow paths forbidden by the Magisterium in the interpreting of Divine Law. This latter phrase, too, was missing from the earlier text.

Still Perplexed

Some of the Fathers were still perplexed. They were afraid that this text could still be interpreted in a way contrary to the previous teachings of the Magisterium. To remove all doubt the Commission added a note which contained the principal documents of the Magisterium to which the text referred, namely, the encyclical of Pius XI Casti Connubii, the Allocution of Pius XII to Midwives, Oct. 29, 1951, the Speech of Paul VI to Cardinals, June 23, 1964. The note said that with a view to finding answers to some particular questions Paul VI had set up a Special Commission "so that after it has completed its task the Holy Father may give his judgment."

At this juncture the less qualified reader, as well as the theologian, might read the definitive draft of Nos. 50 and 51 of the constitution Gaudium et Spes.

The iter of that constitution, as far as the question of marital fecundity goes, clearly shows that the following principles have been consistently affirmed:

1. Marriage and conjugal love, are ordained by their very nature to the procreation and education of offspring, which is the highest gift of God and the ultimate crowning of conjugal union.
2. In the last analysis, the decision regarding the number of offspring rests with the consciences of the married couple.
3. The consciences of the husband and wife must be formed according to the objective norms of morality.
4. In the moral evaluation of the procreative act the nature of the act itself and its intrinsic end must be borne in mind.
5. The objective norms of morality are constituted by Divine Law, the faithful interpreter of which is the Magisterium of the Church, at the end of which Christ has placed the Holy Father.
6. As regards the question we have been studying, the teaching of the Magisterium is found in the relevant documents of Pius XI (the encyclical Casti Connubii, 1930), Pius XII (Allocution to Midwives, 1951) and Paul VI (Speech to Cardinals, 1964).

It is precisely these principles which are underlined in the encyclical Humanae Vitae, and so the encyclical not only does not belie the hopes aroused by the constitution Gaudium et Spes, but is in perfect harmony with the doctrines contained in that constitution, doctrines which are clarified and studied authoritatively and in greater depth by the Supreme Pontiff, exactly according to the wishes and hopes expressed by the Fathers of the Council.

Tomorrow: "The Basis of the Encyclical," By Monsignor Carlo Colombo, on a new way of presenting the moral problems of birth control in the late of the nature and goals of love.

Apollo 12 Astronauts Plan Stroll

Will Venture Over Half Mile At Next Landing

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 12 astronauts may stroll more than half a mile from their moon landing craft next month.

Also, they plan to collect rocks with far greater scientific finesse than Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., were able to employ on mankind's first lunar scavenger hunt.

Apollo 12 Commander Charles Conrad rates chances as "50-50" that he will be able to land close enough to an unmanned Surveyor spacecraft now on the moon's Ocean of Storms so that he and astronaut Alan L. Bean can bring pieces of it back to earth.

All this was revealed in an impromptu press briefing by Navy Cmdr. Conrad and Lt9 Cmdr. Bean Tuesday following a dress rehearsal of their moon walk.

31 Hours

Meanwhile, the third Apollo 12 astronaut—Navy Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr.—helped crews at the launch pad with a countdown rehearsal test for the scheduled Nov. 14 liftoff.

Gordon will remain in moon orbit in the Apollo 12 command ship while Conrad and Bean spend some 31 hours on the surface, including seven hours outside the lunar module landing craft.

Mission rules will let the two crewmen wander 3,000 feet, or about two-thirds of a mile, to visit the Surveyor.

Their emergency oxygen supply, needed if their main backpacks fail, has enough oxygen to keep them alive 15 to 20 minutes.

A color television camera that can beam live coverage of their lunar activities to earth has been built and "if it can be flight qualified in time, will be aboard," Conrad said.

Complex Experiments

The moonmen plan to make two excursions outside the landing craft, each lasting about 3½ hours and separated by an eight-hour rest period.

First, priority has been given to setting up an elaborate set of experiments, Conrad said.

Included is an advanced seismic device to record moonquakes, a sheet of aluminum foil to collect radiation particles streaming from the sun, an experiment to measure the density and velocity of radiation near the lunar surface and a device to study the moon's magnetic fields.

Conrad and Bean will collect samples of moon rocks documented in great detail.

Each rock will be photographed from several angles—with a color scale alongside—before it is picked up, Conrad said, and will be placed in a numbered bag.

Stokes Wins Nomination In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Negro incumbent Carl B. Stokes defeated a self-styled law-and-order candidate by more than 31,000 votes Tuesday in Cleveland's Democratic mayoral primary election.

But Stokes won his bid for nomination to a second two-year term only after overcoming a lead of more than 20,000 votes which Robert J. Kelly, an electoral newcomer, built up in white sections crucial to the

Crippled Woman Adopting Again

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Juanita Cotton is single and confined to a wheelchair. Yet she has adopted one child and is in the process of adopting another.

Being an adoptive mother isn't difficult, she says, but becoming one is.

"I've been the object of every kind of prejudice—racial, religious, professional," says the 41-year-old Negro art teacher.

"But the prejudice against physically handicapped people is the most vicious. I get pretty tired of being told what I can't do because I'm handicapped. Most of the things I'm not supposed to do are things I've been doing all my life," she says.

The Children's Home Society agrees. It permitted Miss Cotton to adopt Yvonne Marie now 2, in March 1968, and currently is in the process of giving her a second Negro child.

"Through our experience with her and her care of the first child, we feel comfort-

Model Cities Cutback

Administration Slices $215 Million In Slum Rehabilitation Funding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has slashed $215 million from the Model Cities program—a 42 per cent cut in funds for rehabilitating some of the nation's worst urban slums.

The White House will allow only $300 million instead of the $515 million that had been ticketed in April to move at least 60 Model Cities projects from the planning stage to program grants during the current fiscal year ending next June 30.

Although Congress set up the program in 1966, this is the first year for implementing the plans to attack all the causes of poverty within a slum area through one integrated program.

mayor's Nov. 4 general election prospects.

The final unofficial count gave Stokes 92,219 votes to 60,899 for Kelly, a 48-year-old former city service director.

Stokes became the first Negro elected mayor of a major American city in 1967. He also is the first Negro mayor of a major city to face a re-election battle.

"We're going to really have to work against Ralph J. Perk," Stokes said of the Republican county auditor he will face in the general election.

Negroes compose about one-third of Cleveland's population of 880,000.

Kelly said he congratulated Stokes "in conformity with the American tradition of politics" but held to his earlier announcement that he would not support the mayor in the general election.

The Model Cities cutback, springing from the President's order of $3.5 billion in government-wide budget reductions to fight inflation, was disclosed by Nathaniel J. Eiseaman, director of the Budget Office at the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Biggest Losers There are a total of 150 communities in 45 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico participating in the program.

Two HUD programs that provide interest subsidies to low-income homeowners and to builders of low-rent apartments are the next biggest losers after Model Cities. Their combined outlays will cut from $39 million to $20 million.

An additional $20 million will be pared from grants for water, sewer and other neighborhood facilities, budgeted originally at $166 million.

However, increases in other HUD urban renewal assistance will partially offset the reductions for Model Cities and the other programs leaving the department's net share of the $3.5 billion in cutbacks at $162 million, Eiseaman said.

Top HUD officials say the Model Cities cuts were made necessary by a late and slow start for the program. They don't signal a Republican-engineered death for Model Cities, the officials contend.

Model Cities was the keystone of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's urban policies. The idea was to funnel all the renewal that federal-local money could buy into target slum neighborhoods.

The Nixon administration last spring dropped the requirement limiting a Model Cities neighborhood to 10 per cent of a city's population.

Critics charge the expansion will dilute the program and make it meaningless.

President Nixon also pared $75 million from Johnson's request for $750 million in new appropriations for Model Cities. The House has voted $500 million, while the Senate has yet to act on the request.

Not Proven The $750 million includes money that would be spent in future years and is not comparable to the $300 million in actual outlays now planned for this fiscal year.

The administration still hopes to obligate expenditures of about $1 billion by next June 30, but the long term outlook for Model Cities is also clouded.

HUD sources say the Bureau of the Budget is resisting plans for large-scale expansion in the future because the program has yet to prove itself.

"The Budget Bureau finds this one of the easiest places to cut," said one HUD source.

The latest slash follows the administration's already controversial plans to curtail another urban renewal program known as neighborhood development or NDP.

NDP is a type of speeded up urban renewal that many locales had hoped to incorporate into their Model Cities project.

Prober Says Sergeants Looted Clubs

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — A gift lion, costly furniture and more than $1 million were part of a flood of illegal profit skimmed by top-ranking Army Sergeants from the enlisted men's clubs they ran in Germany, senators have been told in sworn testimony.

Testimony before Sen. Abraham Ribicoff's investigative subcommittee by a former Army investigator also charged Sgt. William O. Wooldridge—once the Army's top enlisted man—was a leader in a small band of fellow sergeants engaged in a systematic conspiracy to loot the clubs.

Investigator Irvin E. Beard also accused the Army of hiding the facts to avoid embarrassing Gen. Harold K. Johnson, who, as Army chief of staff, had named Wooldridge the Army's first sergeant major.

Grosses Millions Senate aides said Beard's tale of kickbacks, padded payrolls, falsified vouchers and rigged slot machines is only the foothill of a mountain of information developed during eight months of probing alleged multimillion dollar thefts at Army clubs around the world. The clubs had a gross income last year of $750 million.

Tuesday's testimony brought a quick admission from Secretary of the Army, Stanley R. Resor that "a number of strategically placed enlisted men have apparently been able to abuse their positions in nonappropriated fund activities" to siphon the pay of their fellow soldiers into their own pockets. Resor said the Army is moving firmly to correct the situation.

The hearing also brought cries of astonishment from senators who were told the Army expected the thousands of slot machines operated at various service clubs to bring in up to 70 per cent in profit.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said that rate far exceeded that expected by Las Vegas gambling casinos.

Wooldridge Frowned Through it all, Wooldridge sat frowning in a front row seat. His Army dress green uniform was decorated only with a blue and silver combat infantryman's badge.

Last month the Army revoked its award of the Distinguished Service Medal, its second-highest decoration, saying it had information Wooldridge did not deserve it.

The sergeant would not comment on the accusations after the hearing.

His attorney, David Thomas, called Beard's testimony conjecture. He said no evidence exists to present to a court martial or a trial.

Beard said his analysis of slot machine receipts during a four-year period indicated to him as much as $1.4 million might have been stolen from the gambling devices alone.

Probe Hindered "When I sought evidence in the club records, I found them inaccurate, missing, destroyed or concealed," he testified. He said later his own reports on the case have disappeared from Army files in Germany.

Beard charged also that Maj. Gen. William Cunningham, then 24th Infantry Division commander in Germany, acted to cover up the irregularities in the clubs and, in the investigator's words, "permit the persons responsible for them to go scot-free."

He said he became so frustrated during the investigation and so convinced that no charges would be pressed against those involved that he agreed with higher officers the case should be closed.

Beard testified the closing of the case—with a simple and locally filed police report—was completely unprecedented in his experience. Normally, he said, a report on such a case would be filed with criminal investigation officials in the United States and be made a permanent part of Army files.

Own Profit Although he said he could not develop evidence sufficient for prosecution, Beard said he is convinced a tight-knit clique of sergeants at the 24th Infantry Division at Augsburg, Germany "engaged in a criminal conspiracy."

He said it involved "systematic larceny of nonappropriated funds, property and services of the club system for their own benefit and enrichment."

"I knew that Sgt. Maj. William O. Wooldridge, then division sergeant major of the 24th, was a leader in the criminal organization," he testified. He said all appointments in the clubs were controlled by Wooldridge.

The first signs of trouble Beard said, came in 1963 when Ron W. Alcorn, who sold civilian clothing to soldiers, complained he had been accused unjustly of informing on large-scale gambling in the clubs even though he had given them more than $4,500 in gifts, including a live lion.

He said a number of pieces of gift furniture had been used by Wooldridge to furnish his house. "An Italian sofa, which Alcorn said cost almost $1,000 new, was given directly to Wooldridge

... but ended up in the home of another sergeant, Beard said.

Ribicoff, D-Conn., said he would send copies of Beard's testimony to Gen. Johnson and other persons cited in testimony and invite them to appear.

Squad Car Bid Opening Stirs Dealer Dispute

Procedures Employed By County Are Sharply Criticized

Opening of bids early this week by the Outagamie County Board's finance and purchasing committee for new squad cars has erupted into a dispute over county bidding procedures.

The bids for 12 cars are now being compiled and will be let by the committee next Monday.

Cause of the most recent controversy was the reading of a letter by Committee Chairman Marvin Babbitt, Seymour, before the opening of the bids.

The letter, written last Feb 10 by Carl Ray, president of R & R Dodge, criticized county bidding procedures, saying "bidding is a serious legal business and should be handled accordingly."

In his letter, he charged the dealer to whom the previous contract had been let had delivered only seven cars instead of 13 as the contract called for; two models of cars which were bid did not meet specifications; the successful bidder failed to supply information called for in the specifications; the engine specifications were poorly written, and no tabulation was provided the bidders.

Babbitt used Ray's letter as a basis to reject the R & R bid Monday on the grounds the bid was submitted late. Deadline for the bids had been 4 p.m. Friday. R. & R's bid was received Monday morning.

Ray said later he had no objection to the committee rejecting his bid since it was late. But, he said that he objected to them using the letter for that purpose. He added that what he had predicted in the letter came true.

County officials admitted that only 7 of 13 cars bid last year were delivered by Russ Darrow Chrysler Plymouth.

However, Babbitt said the problem arose because the contract was "open-ended" and did not call for a specific number of cars to be delivered on a specific date and the last six cars could not be obtained.

He said for that reason, this year's contract calls for a specific number of cars to be delivered on a set date.

Russ Darrow, president of the auto firm, declined to comment on last year's contract. He said he did not want to get involved in a controversy while this year's bid were still unsettled.

However, Darrow said he would agree with portions of Ray's letter. At the committee meeting, he also urged the county to consider bidding for all of its cars at one time instead of twice during the year.

Darrow was the apparent low bidder among the four dealers whose bids were accepted. He bid $2,364 for 12 Plymouths with a trade allowance of $820 each for six 1967 Dodges and $1,450 each for six 1969 Plymouths.

Other bids were submitted by Griesbach Chevrolet, Hortonville; Stathas Ford, Seymour, and K & B Chevrolet, Black Creek.

Jury Trials Ordered for Book Sellers

Circuit Court jury trials have been scheduled for two Appleton book store operators and one store clerk charged with possessing and selling indecent or obscene materials.

Dist. Atty. James R. Long said Tuesday that Eugene Court, 43, 508 S. Walnut St., charged with one count of selling obscene magazines on March 21, will stand trial Oct. 14. His attorney made an unsuccessful attempt recently to have the trial transferred to another county. Court operates the Book Seller, 609 W. College Ave.

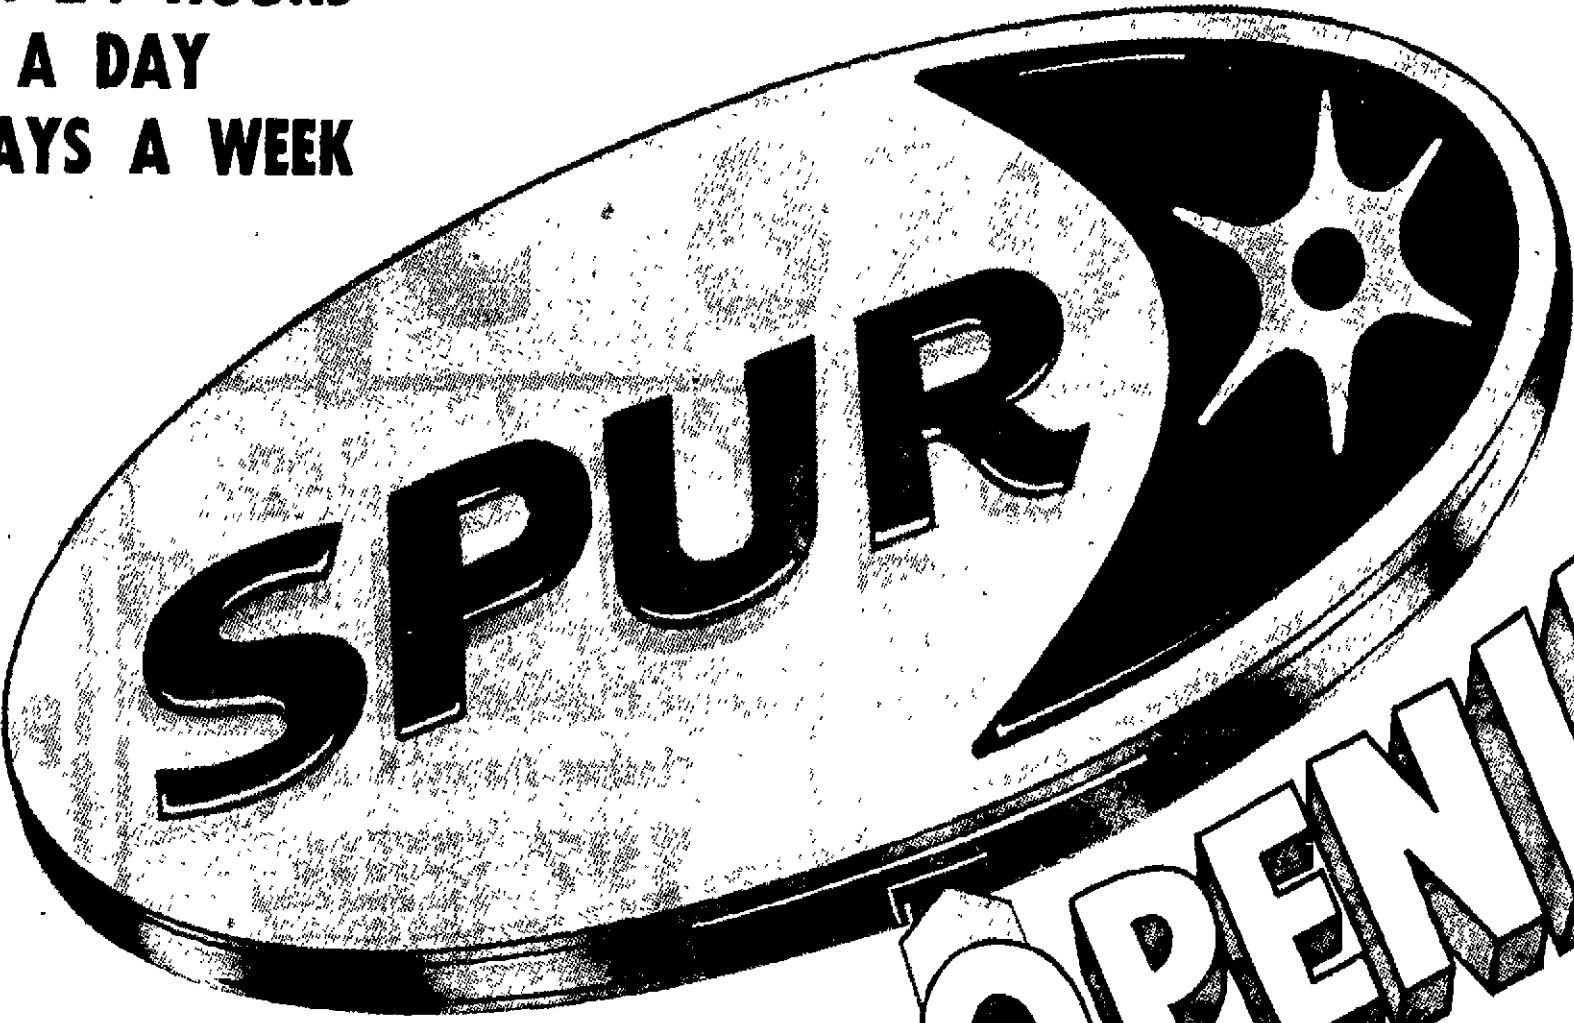

An Oct. 15 trial is scheduled for Thomas A. Hamm, 27, 1192 Adams Beach Road, Clintonville, operator of the Book Nook, 902 W. Wisconsin Ave., who is charged with four felony counts.

Trial on the same day is set for Errol J. Simpson, 32, 317 1/2 W. College Ave., a clerk at the Book Nook, who is charged with one count of possessing and selling indecent literature.

The charges against Hamm and Simpson allege violations between April 19 and June 10.

City Gets Hike In Water Rates

Temporary Increase Granted
Immediately to Offset Costs

A 5 per cent temporary increase in all Appleton water rates has been approved by the state Public Service Commission, effective immediately.

The increase was requested by the local utility because returns from present rates were inadequate, based on increased operating costs.

The amount the utility pays in place of local and school taxes has increased substantially over prior years, water department officials told the PSC, adding that operating expenses the past seven months were $20,587 higher than that period a year ago.

The surcharge is expected to produce about $45,836 in additional annual revenue.

The last Appleton water rate increase took effect Nov. 1, 1968.

New Facilities

The utility currently is adding $4.8 million in water supply, treatment and transmission facilities.

According to PSC figures, the present rates have yielded a return of 3.92 per cent on net investment. A return of 5.68 per cent is considered reasonable, in the state agency's view, and the interim rate increase would yield about that return.

The utility expects its current expansion project to be finished by next July, when it must reapply to the PSC for a permanent rate to be set, to replace the interim surcharge.

Faulty Alarm System Sends Firefighters To Riverside Paper

A malfunction in the plant alarm system brought five units of the Appleton Fire Department to Riverside Paper Co. about 9:30 a.m. today.

Four units were sent to the Sam Belinke home, 425 E. Grant St., Monday morning. It was discovered that smoke in the basement was coming from a burned out washing machine motor.

At 6:40 a.m. today, one unit went to the Mrs. Robert OBrien home, 1514 S. Outagamie St., when a short developed in a light switch. There was no fire.

COG Housing Unit Endorses Needs Study

Planner's Outline
For Region Gets Committee Support

KAUKAUNA — A regional housing committee Tuesday night endorsed an approach to studying the housing needs in the area and developing solutions.

The support came from the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) housing technical advisory committee at its second meeting with Kenneth Theine, associate COG planner in charge of the housing analysis. Theine outlined a prospectus showing generally the housing need in the area and how he proposes to analyze in more detail this need. Specifically, he hopes to reveal the type of housing needed and where each type is needed.

Theine told committeemen a preliminary look indicated the Fox Valley, as a whole, is more overcrowded than the state or any individual region in the state. State and federal officials also have pointed to the valley's critical need for housing.

HUD Review

Committeemen also authorized Theine to send his prospectus to the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for review. If HUD also agrees the approach is proper, Theine should proceed, they agreed.

COG received $12,500 for area-wide housing planning this year and is anticipating another $26,700 for 1970, Theine said. HUD provides two-thirds of each total.

Committeemen from various communities outlined their own programs Tuesday night and exchanged ideas and experiences on working with HUD.

Lee Jensen, chairman of the Appleton Housing Authority, said that personal contact is much more effective than telephone calls or letters in dealings with HUD's Chicago office. He said Appleton hoped to break ground in January on a housing for the elderly complex.

Owner-Occupied Homes

Theine reported that despite the large need for housing, the Fox Valley region showed a larger percentage of owner-occupied homes and a lower deterioration level, not surprising since owners are more conscientious about upkeep.

He indicated Oshkosh has the poorest housing conditions in the region.

However, he said, all his data was based on the 1960 census and might be of limited value.

Theine said a good sign of deteriorating housing is overcrowding, or more than one person per room. He warned that if owner occupancy level

AHS-West Picked As Swim Pool Site

Indoor-Outdoor Facility for School, Public

The park board recommends Appleton West over a similar site at nearby Wilson Junior High School.

Center Opens 3 New Stores On South Side

Mayor George Buckley sliced a ribbon at 9 a.m. today to officially open three stores at the Southside Plaza Shopping Center which are a major part of a three-year development costing an estimated $925,000.

Kitz and Pheil Hardware, Peerless Launderers and Cleaners and Richard's Hair Stylists and Beauty Salon were opened.

Kitz and Pheil has 10,000 square feet of floor space in a building that cost $225,000. The Peerless Launderers and Cleaners occupies 3,000 square feet of space and cost $80,000. Richard's Hair Stylists and Beauty Salon totals 15,000 square feet and had a $90,000 price tag.

A Park 'N' Market store and the Southside Pharmacy have operated at the site since 1965. In two months a Plaza Beer and Liquor store also will open.

The six buildings will total a 53,000 square foot area covered by one roof. Canopies have been installed over walks at the shopping center.

The development was started three years ago by Theodore Utschig and Sons, Appleton.

Utschig said five more buildings have been planned besides a 25-unit office building.

At the same special meeting, the board voted to recommend putting $500,000 in the 1970 park and recreation budget, to be raised through bonding, to finance construction of the pool.

It is proposed as the city's first indoor-outdoor swimming facility to be usable year-around.

Movable Panels

Movable panels would shelter the pool during the cold months, and during the summer could be opened to convert the pool to an outdoor facility.

It would be used for instructional purposes at the school, and at other times would be locked off from the school itself to allow public use.

Erb Park Pool is recommended for reconstruction as a similar all-weather facility, and Mead Park Pool is also suggested for conversion, after 1971.

High School Site

The site at the high school is along the south edge of the present building, and would adjoin the physical education wing which the school administration plans to expand next year.

Both projects would be undertaken together. School officials have endorsed the cooperative arrangement.

Also at Tuesday's special meeting, the board adopted a budget totalling $1,322,751, of which $639,751 would be financed through general taxes.

For 1969, the city budget contained $521,510 for park and recreation purposes, but with eight months' operations behind them park and recreation officials expect by year-end to spend $552,871.

Labor Rates

The $31,360 over-expenditure is nearly all in the administrative area, and according to park officials is due to increased labor rates granted during the past year after the budget was set.

For 1970, the board is proposing bond issues of $500,000 for the pool and $95,000 for land acquisition.

An estimated $88,000 in revenues other than taxes is expected. The remainder to be financed by property taxes is about 8 per cent above last year's appropriation.

Before voting approval, the board deleted proposals for a $16,000 shelter house at Arbutus Park and $14,800 in other capital improvements.

Steidl Query On ABC Gets Spears Reply

Tuition Cost Is Not Paid From Taxes,
Says Superintendent

Ald. John Steidl (18th) has raised questions on future funding of the ABC (A Better Chance) program in the Appleton school system where underprivileged but highly capable youths are given an adequate prep school education.

Steidl, chairman of the city council school advisory committee, asked Supt. of Schools William Spears Monday night why no tuition figure for these students was in the 1970 budget request.

He also asked whether local tax dollars would be used to fund it in the future. If this would be the case, he said, the program should be dropped.

Steidl said this morning he learned the Rockefeller Foundation funded most of the program this past year, and local contribution made up the rest. Originators of ABC here have assured no local tax dollars would be used.

Steidl said Spears indicated the tuition money for these students was included in the total tuition revenue figure. He said the superintendent had sent him a letter responding to his questions.

Spears could not be reached for comment at noon today on his answer.

Prospect Span Is 'Hazardous'

City Official Suggests Use of Fill to Support Aging Bridge

The bridge carrying Prospect Avenue over Appleton Street "has deteriorated to the point of being hazardous," Public Works Director Robert G. Miller has found.

The city council's streets and sanitation committee voted Monday to vacate the Appleton Street right-of-way to permit Miller to build an embankment underneath the bridge to support the span.

Miller wrote in a report that the bridge deck's condition is "questionable," sidewalks "have deteriorated to a significant degree" and corrosion has robbed main beams of "a significant portion of their strength."

A row of columns was installed supporting the bridge at mid-span some time ago, to minimize the loss of strength, Miller wrote.

Filling up the viaduct under the structure would cost about $2,000, with materials coming from street construction sites, he suggested. He recommended putting funds in the 1970 city budget.

The span is in the path of the proposed Oneida Street high level bridge, and the Appleton Street stretch under the span provides lightly-used access to an industrial parking lot which can be reached by another route, Miller said in explaining why he recommended the least expensive means for solving the problem.

Marinette Runaways Placed in Custody

Three Marinette County teenagers who ran away from their homes were taken into custody by state police about 10 a.m. today.

The 14-year-old girl and two boys, ages 18 and 19, were hitchhiking along U.S. 41, just south of the Brown County line. They were placed in juvenile detention in the Outagamie County jail pending arrival of Marinette authorities.

Theft Investigated

Appleton detectives are investigating the apparent theft of $58 from the Owens Service Station, 1221 N. Superior St. The station manager reported the loss Tuesday after taking inventory.

Action Begins to Improve Northside Business

A four-point program to improve the Wisconsin Avenue commercial climate was put in force Tuesday night by members of the Northside Advancement Association.

The organization is setting up what is being termed a "planning commission," which members say is intended eventually to work for improvements throughout the northside's business area.

One committee appointed Tuesday will investigate shifting

State 96 off Wisconsin Avenue and relocating it on Northland Avenue, which is now is County Trunk OO.

Another sub-group will ask the city council to remove parking restrictions along Wisconsin Avenue, a third will urge restrictions on future development of gasoline stations, and a fourth will explore zoning changes to benefit avenue development.

Quick Action

Charles Riley, operator of an avenue furniture store, told the 17 businessmen at the meeting that action is needed quickly. "Now the movement is to W. College Avenue, and in a very short time we will be bypassed by a movement out to Double-O. We will be left stuck in the middle with nothing," he said.

Ald. Walter Kalata (2nd), who has submitted resolutions for city council action to deal with matters discussed at the session, was among those present in the Columbus Club meeting room.

When he referred to a Wisconsin Avenue development plan drawn up about three years ago by a Fox Valley Council of Governments planner, one member remarked, "The only way you are going to implement a plan like that is under urban redevelopment."

Kalata replied, "Perhaps that may be the ultimate future of Northside Advancement."

Reports on three of the four items chosen for action are due in a month. The parking proposal must go before the council's streets and sanitation committee earlier.

Work With Chamber

John Hennessey, president of Northern State Bank, accepted chairmanship of the Highway 96 committee, saying he would work through the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce to find out from state officials whether the route could be moved and how.

Members believe relocating the state trunk highway would ease traffic on the avenue and eliminate one reason petroleum companies find the thoroughfare attractive for locating gas stations.

Riley agreed to accept the job of writing a letter explaining the group's request for unlimited parking to the city council, and to arrange to have representation present when the public safety committee takes up the matter.

Jack Hetu, city director of planning, who was present on invitation of the group, agreed to study zoning problems and bring back his findings in a month. Members complained that present lots along the avenue are mostly 120 feet deep, too little for major commercial development.

Kalata has submitted resolutions to the council on moving State 96, lifting parking restrictions, limiting gas station development and enforcing speed laws on the avenue.

Welfare Check Cuts Postponed One Month

Cuts in state welfare assistance for categorical aids, which were to have gone into effect with checks received this month by welfare recipients, have been postponed until Nov. 1.

Outagamie County Director of Social Services Alfred Eggert said his department was notified late last Thursday by the State Department of Social Services to compute October aid payments on the same basis as in the past.

Eggert said the October checks had already been computed under the reduced formula when the rescinding order came. He said the total amount of aid reduction for the month would have been about $2,200.

He said they were told to wait until November before making any changes. By that time the results of the special session of the state legislature will be known.

Public Meeting Sunday

LU Vietnam Protest to Involve Community

Members of the community will be offered an opportunity to voice their thoughts on an Oct. 15 moratorium, devoted to a protest of the Vietnam war by Lawrence University, at an open meeting at 4 p.m. Sunday at the university.

Proposals for the protest day will be discussed at that time by members of the national committee, called the "Vietnam Moratorium Committee," which is staffed by veterans of the Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy for president campaigns.

The group has called for a slowdown in work and a postponement of classes and the closing of administration offices on that day and the faculty of Lawrence agreed to the proposal at a special meeting Monday.

Local Committees

Local committees were formed Tuesday at a meeting of about 35 persons at Lawrence.

The committees are to recruit volunteer workers and to discuss the advisability of seminars and workshops to discuss political, economic and religious aspects of the war; a sit-in at the Selective Service offices; circulation of petitions and fund-raising activities for war refugees.

The reason the moratorium is being brought to the public is to involve the whole community in the effort, according to Mort Schwartz, of the economics department.

He said a grassroots organization should involve all segments of Appleton.

Broad Spectrum

"It must present a broad spectrum. It must give a series of alternatives to bring in the most number of students, faculty and community," he added.

Another suggestion made was to establish connections with the area high schools and the community to draw attention to Vietnam.

Efforts should also be made through churches, businesses and labor, it was suggested.

The protest action is designed to escalate each month with a two-day suspension in November, three in December and continuing until American action in Vietnam is ended.

Student organizers have stressed the fact that this is in no way to be construed as a strike against the colleges themselves.

Although Things Are a Bit Confusing for the motorist attempting to approach U.S. 41 via W. College Avenue, our photographer employed a telephoto lens to emphasize the situation and created this bewildering cluster of signs and directions. This scene was shot just west of the viaduct looking west on W. College Ave. The avenue is closed before reaching U.S. 41, but is still open to limited westbound traffic desiring access to establishments along the closed section. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Large Proposes Sewer Services By Utilities

State Studies Plan To Help Small Towns Meet State Orders

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Should privately-owned public utilities be encouraged to provide sewage collection and treatment services in those communities that find the cost of such facilities too high? Sen. Gerald Lorge of Bear Creek, chairman of the senate committee which handles legislation affecting corporations, believes the idea is worth examination and has disclosed that he has asked state government experts to explore it.

Such private companies would provide the facilities and bill the local customers for their services, under the regulatory authority of the state public service commission, as he explained his tentative plan.

Wisconsin localities without public sewer systems and sewage treatment plants are aware that state government orders for the provision of such facilities are inevitable, under the new pollution control act adopted by the Legislature two years ago.

But Lorge said there remains a considerable number of localities, many of them small and with small taxing resources, that will find financing such improvements difficult or impossible even if it is assumed that authorized state and federal grants of aid are made available to them.

He mentioned the community of Nichols in Outagamie County, which is now proceeding to comply with a state order but with onerous financial burdens resulting, as the legislator described its situation.

Lorge said he believes there are precedents for his plan in other states, and expects soon to have a background study of the idea as the framework for the legislation he proposes to offer.

should change, this could cause the overcrowding to have "serious effects on the region's housing conditions."

He cited present obstacles to a regional approach to the housing problems. These include lack of a workable program, certification for all communities, lack of compatible data, no provisions for housing services, no broad-based housing programs and inadequate welfare authorization for housing and inspection and code enforcement staffs.

Workable Programs These shortcomings presently "can severely curtail or jeopardize the implementation" of a comprehensive housing program, he said.

He outlined his plans for developing a workable program, including codes, which he said "helps a city make good decisions on housing."

Only Appleton and Kaukauna have workable programs, and Oshkosh, Neenah and Menasha each are considering drafting one.

Edward Adams, of the Fond du Lac-Oshkosh Building Trades Council, was accepted as a new committee member, replacing the original representative of labor who quit at the first meeting.

Heine also outlined why he felt the committee was fairly balanced in representation of management and labor, and the committee agreed the distribution was adequate.

Speeds 102 mph; Draws $100 Fine

Thomas W. Schingen, 22, Green Bay, was fined $100 and costs or 25 days in jail Tuesday morning in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 after he pleaded guilty of speeding 102 miles per hour on U. S. 41 at County Trunk N the morning of Sept. 7.

Judge Nick F. Schaefer also suspended Schingen's driver's license for the mandatory 15 days. He was arrested by state police.

Village Youth Fined $25 After Accident

LITTLE CHUTE — Jerry Verhagen, 18, 900 E. Lincoln Ave., pleaded guilty to unsafe lane changing and was fined $25 by Municipal Justice Raymond Sanders Monday night.

Verhagen was arrested after an accident on E. Main Street Saturday.

Liquor, Beer Taken

A case of liquor, three cases of beer, a box of cigars, and several cartons of cigarettes were taken during a weekend burglary at Rainbow Gardens on State 96 east of Appleton. The burglary was reported to the sheriff's department Monday.

Register in Probate Joyce Schumaker, foreground, and Court Reporter Florence Lawrence had to roll out the mops and bucket before they could start office duties this morning in Outagamie County Court Branch 1. They opened the door to find the floor flooded with water dripping from the ceiling. Janitors found that a drain pipe from a shower in the jail, directly above the court office, had deteriorated and sprung a leak sometime during the night.

Welfare Mob Assailed

Assembly Member Cheered; Senator Queries Archbishop

MADISON — A young Demonstrators led by Father Groppi finance his part-time graduate studies at the University of Wisconsin. He said also that he recently had a complaint from a woman recipient of public welfare about the amount of her allowances, and discovered that her income, counting cash grants as well as the value equivalents of free medical care, drugs and other items, are within $75 a month of his income "and I have one more dependent than she has."

Complaint Cited He explained that he is required to live modestly on his salary of $8,900 a year, with no other income, to support his wife and four children and to William E. Cousins of Milwaukee take disciplinary action against the Rev. James Groppi. Herbert Grover, 32-year-old assemblyman from Shawano, Tuesday recorded an experience that has come to only a handful of legislators in the modern history of the legislative branch of the state government.

He was loudly applauded by his colleagues after delivering an angry speech against the "fuzzy wuzzies" who he said were the captains of the occupation of the state capitol 24 hours earlier.

Hearty Response Grover got a hearty response from both sides of the political aisle in the assembly when he denounced the siege of the capitol by a mob of demon-

Friday Inquest Set On Traffic Death Of Kaukauna Girl

An inquest will be held Friday afternoon on circumstances surrounding the traffic death early Sunday of Joanne M. Kiffe, 21, Kaukauna.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps and Dist. Atty. James R. Long said they will hear testimony from nine witnesses. The names of the witnesses were withheld. The inquest, without a jury, will start at 2 p.m. at the courthouse.

Miss Kiffe, an Oshkosh State University student, was killed almost instantly about 2:40 a.m. Sunday when she was struck by a car on County Trunk Q in Kaukauna. Authorities were told she had jumped from the vehicle in which she was a passenger moments before being struck.

Forged by Children?

Checks Stolen Year Ago Found in Appleton

Five personal checks, including three stolen from a Milwaukee assemblyman's secretary, turned up in Appleton Tuesday night and today, detectives said. One check, made out for $30,000, was found in a downtown department store. The only other check showing an amount was for $800, police said. They did not know where that check was found.

The $30,000 check was made out to a known Wisconsin manufacturing firm. The $800 check was made out to "Bucky Squirrel."

Two of the checks were made out to an Appleton detective and were found near the police station.

A detective said three of the checks were among 25 believed taken more than a year ago from the home of a campaign secretary to Milwaukee Assemblyman Lloyd Barbee. The secretary's office was burglarized. These reportedly are the first of the stolen checks to turn up, a detective explained.

The other personal checks found here carry the names of a Milwaukee couple. Detectives said they have not been able to contact the couple.

The checks are forged, according to police. They said it appeared to be the work of children, but detectives were unable to explain how the Milwaukee checks got here.

Reaction to Groppi Shows Fear, Anger

Welfare Recipients Say Demonstration Cut Chance for Funds

Welfare recipients in Outagamie County have expressed dismay and anger at the actions of welfare demonstrators in Madison who, led by Father James Groppi, occupied state assembly chambers Monday.

The consensus was that the demonstration did more harm than good in efforts to get welfare aid cuts restored. One woman, who asked not to be identified, said, "Father Groppi should be shot."

Many of the other women felt the action Monday would hurt them. "I don't know what the legislature will do now," one said. Another added that she doubted the legislature would restore the cuts as a result of the demonstration.

The women were waiting at the courthouse annex this morning for their October assistance checks.

Demonstrators occupied the Assembly chambers Monday, preventing the Assembly from meeting. They were removed after a court order was obtained preventing anyone except authorized persons from entering the capitol building.

Former Seymour Farmer, Official Dies in Green Bay

SEYMOUR — Fred R. Hill Sr., former Seymour resident and member of the Town of Oneida board for 31 years, died early this morning at the Woodside Lutheran Home in Green Bay after a long illness.

Hill, 84, farmed at route 3, for 53 years before retiring. He served the Outagamie Highway committee for many years and was active in several other organizations.

Survivors include his widow, four daughters, four sons, 19 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren and one brother. One son and one daughter preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Friday at the Muehl Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Seymour City Cemetery.

Five Applicants Seek Fire Department Post

KAUKAUNA — Five applications for a position on the fire department were received by the fire and police commission by the Monday deadline for applicants, according to Nor-

Commission members will meet early next week to review applications and possibly interview applicants. One position on the department is open due to the resignation of David Gatz who took a position with an area industry.

County's 10th Fatality

Waupaca Woman Dies In Two-Car Accident

WAUPACA — Mrs. George Friberg, 68, route 1, died early Tuesday evening, the victim of a two-car accident six miles west of Waupaca on State 54 and U.S. 10 detour.

She was pronounced dead upon arrival at Riverside Community Hospital and is the county's 10th fatality of the year.

Her husband, who is 69, received a fractured right shoulder and severe face and head lacerations.

According to evidence gathered at the scene by county patrolman John Bonnell, the Fribergs were driving west about 7 p.m. and were making a right turn into the Turner Vegetable Market. Their station wagon was struck from behind by a car driven by Kenneth De Santis, 22, route 2, Weyauwega. The impact drove the Friberg car 30 feet ahead into the ditch on the right and its two passengers were thrown 20 feet beyond the wreckage.

The Friberg vehicle burst into flames and it took about 30 minutes for firefighters to extinguish the blaze.

Se Santis, uninjured in the crash, was arrested on charges of driving while under the influence of an intoxicating beverage. He is being held in the Waupaca County jail, pending further investigation.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Friberg is survived by two daughters, three grandchildren, and one brother. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

The death of a Sturgeon Bay man has raised Wisconsin's 1969 traffic fatality figure to 830 compared with 881 on Oct. 1, 1968.

Ell Bosman, 72, of Sturgeon Bay died Tuesday in an Oshkosh hospital of head injuries suffered Sept. 21 in a U.S. 41 accident that claimed the life of his wife.

Movement Offered in Appleton

Lecture to Explain Inner Peace

An introductory lecture to a respect and leadership qualities program entitled the Inner Peace Movement, geared to develop man's potentials through self-understanding, will be offered at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Appleton YMCA.

The lecture will be presented by Mrs. Carol Gregg, state assistant administrator for the program. Mrs. Gregg, a former Peace Corps volunteer, will describe man's relationship to science, religion and society and how to develop a balance within this framework.

The program, she explained, has a spiritual foundation but is not a religion. It is an accelerated personal growth program. Through leadership training and techniques, you can discover and develop self-confidence, seven-year cycles.

Inner Peace Movement is a non-profit education organization. If anyone attending the lecture is interested, a technique workshop, which would last three hours, is set up for another evening.

A home group is formed after the workshop, which is closely supervised by trained leaders for the first six meetings.

Since the program is a voluntary one, there is no pressure on anyone to participate further than the person is interested in doing.

Because there is no profit involved, the national leaders charge for time only, which comes to $1 an hour per person. The program, organized in 1964, has been introduced in about 200 communities in 40 states and Canada.

Michigan Man Fined On Vagrancy Charge
A 61-year-old Escanaba Mich., man on his way to Milwaukee to find work was fined $35 and costs or eight days in jail Tuesday after he pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.
Joseph Plouff was arrested by 14 Appleton police Monday night as he was sitting by a small fire near W. Franklin and N. State Streets. He told the court he built the fire to keep warm. Plouff said he spent the last of his money Monday.
He said he left Escanaba last week and was hitchhiking to Milwaukee. He has been arrested for vagrancy here before.

COMING — SAT., OCT. 11th
20th SEMI-ANNUAL GOOD NEIGHBOR FAIR

WISCONSIN RAPIDS—North-eastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission planners will join other regional planners and state and city officials here Friday to discuss the role of planning in meeting the state's housing needs.

The meeting was set up by Edward Gegan, supervisor of special and technical services, of the planning bureau of the State Department of Local Affairs and Development.

The talk session will be used to exchange ideas and determine the housing need and how comprehensive planning can be used to help solve it.

"We will try to bring out what can be done on the local level," Gegan said, noting the housing program will be looked at in a broad sense.

Local Delegates

"It's purely a forum between planning agencies, cities and our bureau," he added.

Herbert Rieckmann, who is heading a housing study for Northeastern, and Charles Hervey Jr., the commission's executive director, will attend the session. Kenneth Theine and Arno Hoering of the Fox Valley Council of Governments also will attend.

Rieckmann has been doing a preliminary study of housing needs in the nine-county commission region and learned, as an earlier sewer study revealed, that there is a critical need, particularly for low income housing in the northern counties.

An outline of a comprehensive housing study will be completed in about two weeks by Rieckmann, and a housing technical advisory committee also will be named soon, as the commission prepares for the in-depth analysis.

House Still Wins in New Roulette Game

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — One casino, attempting to lure wealthy gamblers from Mexico and Europe, has installed a Monte Carlo-oriented roulette wheel — increasing a patron's chance to win.

Roulette, Nevada style, has 36 numbers, in addition to a zero and double-zero. The new tables at the Bonanza Hotel-Casino don't have the double-zero.

This, the casino says, slices the house's edge from 5.26 per cent to between 2.7 and 1.35 per cent.

RED OWL'S PRICE REBELLION DROPS TRADING STAMPS

WE HAVE DROPPED TRADING STAMPS... LOWERED PRICES... BUT NEVER WILL WE LOWER OUR QUALITY KNOWINGLY!

PRICE IS NO BARGAIN WITHOUT QUALITY AND WE ABSOLUTELY REFUSE TO LOWER QUALITY, AS OTHERS MIGHT DO, TO OFFER A CHEAP PRICE ON CHEAP QUALITY. WE OFFER ONLY THE FINEST QUALITY AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO AT THE HOME OF THE PRICE REBELLION!

Homemakers throughout the country have been disturbed by rising prices. Food, since it is purchased most often, and because women spend so much time shopping at their favorite local supermarket, has become the target of contention. While food costs have risen, so has the cost of medical care, recreation, transportation, services, clothing and home ownership, to name just a few items. So you can't truthfully place all of the blame on your neighborhood grocery store. We agree however, every effort should be made to keep food prices down.

So, as a result, we are eliminating some of the unnecessary costs of doing business, and are lowering the cost of food to you.

Our Everyday Low Rebellion Prices Will Tell Only Part of the Story

They don't tell you about our unconditional money back guarantee or that we sell only the choicest of the U.S. Gov't. Graded Choice Beef or that Red Owl dares to offer a double your money back guarantee on your meat purchases.

Or that Red Owl's fruits, vegetables, and other perishables are of the finest quality anywhere.

Or that you can expect to find Red Owl stores to be clean stores in which to shop.

Or that Red Owl is this area's only food store to offer you the extra saving of a "Price Break" buy. Or that you are more welcome at Red Owl than any other store... our customers are our most important concern. Or that Red Owl will continue to bring you exciting exclusive offers that represent quality at a greatly reduced price. And the many pluses go on and on!

RED OWL FEATURES NATIONAL BRANDS...

The Famous Brands You Know and Trust at Low, Low, Rebellion Prices

In addition to other well-known nationally advertised brands, Red Owl offers famous regional brands such as Harvest Queen, Red Owl, Fleur, Silver Service, Farmdale, Flavoree, Brimful, etc. that are produced and processed to most rigid specifications.

In fact, any regional, exclusive brand that Red Owl offers is guaranteed to be equal to or surpass the quality of its national brand counterpart. You can buy these products of your choice with complete confidence... and the savings are amazing!

AND THOUSANDS OF PRICES AT THE SAME TIME!

Fresh Baked Breads and Pastries Arrive Each Day
Our produce department "shines" with fresh top quality products... and the folks who "run" all these departments are, we're sure you'll agree, the friendliest, most personable in the grocery industry! It certainly makes sense to shop Red Owl's Rebellion for the prices, but the nicest thing about it is: The real pleasure is in the warm, courteous service and the knowledge that you're buying your family the very best, regardless!

Service, Quality and Variety
All the extras are at Red Owl! Our self service meats are unequalled for quality (we guarantee that unconditionally) and if you want a special cut of meat, we'll do it in grand style! You'll find imported and domestic cheeses, sausages and snacks to satisfy anyone's particular taste!
In cans, jars, bottles and boxes, our National Brand merchandise covers every conceivable food and some foods you may not have heard of. It's fun just to browse for new foods and new ideas!

As Soon as Workmen complete a few alleys at the new Super Bowl located northeast of Appleton at Ballard Road and County Trunk OO, eager bowlers have been using them. Although the 20-alley establishment still needs quite a lot of finishing touches, it has been open the last few evenings for those who don't mind a few rough edges. The new lanes are being built for Marcus Enterprises and will be completed soon. Only four lanes were ready when this picture was snapped, but the construction crew finishes a few more each day. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Neenah Man Charged With Killing Dog

Sitter Slates Trial In Oshkosh Court After Innocent Plea

OSHKOSH — A 36-year-old rural Neenah man pleaded innocent to a charge of killing a domestic animal and trial has been set for 8:30 a.m. Oct. 15 in County Court.

Thomas Wandahsega, route 1, Neenah, appeared before Judge James V. Sitter Tuesday morning. He was released on his own recognizance.

Wandahsega was charged by the sheriff's department and was arrested on a warrant on Sept. 26. The complaint against Wandahsega was signed by Marsella Kasick, route 1, Neenah, owner of the dog the defendant allegedly killed.

According to the complaint, Wandahsega on July 27, grabbed the dog, twisted it around in the air and smashed the animal against the side of his house.

Delinquency of Minors

Robert McKellip, 36, 1651 Eugene St., Menasha, pleaded innocent to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of two minor girls. The alleged offense occurred on June 12. McKellip was released on his own recognizance and the judge set further proceedings for Oct. 8 at Neenah.

A preliminary hearing has been set 2 p.m. Oct. 8 for a rural Menasha youth on a grand theft charge. Michael Boylan, route 1, is charged with stealing two bucket seats and a fire extinguisher on Sept. 21 from a car owned by Wayne Schmidt, 1078 Bantleon Court. He is also charged with taking a tachometer from an auto owned by Daniel Smith, 1457 Linda Ave., Menasha, on Sept. 23. In both cases, the defendant requested an attorney.

Marvin Barth, 30, 215 Smith St., Neenah, pleaded innocent to a disorderly conduct charge. The incident, which allegedly occurred on Aug. 25, involved a fight between Barth and his brother. Barth's attorney told the court that the brother put up the bond for Marvin and apparently does not want to press charges. Further proceedings in the matter are set Oct. 15 at Neenah.

A 19-year-old Appleton youth, Steven E. Mewhorter, 1706 Sanders St., Appleton, charged with non-registration and no valid drivers license for his motorcycle, pleaded guilty to both counts.

10-Day Jail Term

He was fined $20 for non-registration and given a 10-day jail sentence with Huber privileges on the other count. Mewhorter was charged following an accident on Sept. 4 in the Town of Menasha. His cycle went out of control near State 47 and County Trunk P and crashed through a wall of the Vulcan Basement Waterproofing Co. The youth sustained a broken arm, back injuries and hand cuts in the mishap.

Former Kaukauna Man Is Fined For Vagrancy

Arrested in an alley along the 600 block of W. College Avenue early Tuesday, Richard Geborek, 20, formerly of 419 W. Park St., Kaukauna, was fined $36 and costs or eight days in jail master planning consultant, Jerry Pollak, representing Victor Gruen Associates, Los Angeles, it's probably a good thing.

The growing need for federal aid in the project, estimated to cost the city an eventual $6 million, was noted by Menasha Redevelopment Authority (MRA) President Ralph McClone.

"Up until now, we were determined to do it alone (without federal money)," McClone said, adding that the city has tried and made itself eligible for federal funding if the need arose.

But McClone said public housing funds and other aid that would be available from the federal government, and that would be bypassed by the city, may have changed that original intention.

He said that "because of federal housing funds," the city would not get without trying, they are now looking at federal funding as a possible method for financing parts of the project.

McClone made the statement after Pollak concluded a 50-minute presentation of a city-wide comprehensive plan, part of which is the downtown redevelopment plan, by saying the city had decided to take the project on without federal aid.

Low-cost housing for the elderly is a serious consideration for Menasha, Pollak said, and federal funding for beautification projects, schools, sewer and water projects and urban renewal could all help the city's redevelopment project.

"While I'm proud that the city is taking up an innovative program (no federal aid) we shouldn't lose sight of the fact that we want to use money in the best possible way," Pollak said.

He said the most successful urban renewal projects are undertaken by cities that have determined how much money they have to spend and looked "elsewhere" if more is needed.

Pollak said federal funds require comprehensive planning before they can even be applied for, and that a capital improvement program outlying spending priorities helps justify federal aid requests.

He also said he "believes in politics," and that the support of local congressmen should be enlisted in any request for federal funds from Menasha.

Despite the city's redevelopment resolution, which had a clause disclaiming the use of federal funds on the downtown project, City Atty. Richard Stefens has said the clause does not rule out the possibility of federal funding. He says it only reflects the intentions of the common council which passed the resolution not to use federal funding.

Land for Future OSU Conference Center Purchased

Some three and one-half acres of land across the Fox River from the Oshkosh State University campus has been purchased by the WSU-O Foundation as a possible future site for a university conference center, according to Ben Gordon, Foundation president.

The land is bounded by the Fox River, Campbell Road, the Kubasta Marina and Wisconsin Public Service transmission line property. A parking area for 100 cars will be constructed on the land.

Arrangements for the land purchase were handed by a Foundation Board member Russell Williams.

For some months, the WSU-O Foundation membership has been conducting study and plan-

Fire Chief Seeks 17 Employees

NEENAH — Fire Chief Ronald Mertz has asked for an additional 17 men in 1970 so his department can come up to the manpower recommendations of the Wisconsin Fire Insurance Rating Bureau.

A total of 15 men have been asked to beef up the fire fighting crew and Mertz has asked for a full-time mechanic and an inspector.

"The rating bureau, in a 1967 evaluation of the city fire fighting capability, suggested that we have at least four men per engine company and three men for each ladder company," Mertz explained.

18 on Duty

To meet this requirement the chief would need 18 men on duty for all three shifts. This is five more per shift than he has now.

The additional manpower asked by Mertz, increased his 1970 budget to $429,181 or about $130,000 over the present operating expenses. Salaries for the men is the largest factor accounting for about $126,000.

Mertz has met all the other recommendations of the fire rating bureau. The suggested sending of three pieces of equipment to each fire has been carried out, he said. Mertz has also upgraded the training so the department is familiar with and knows how to operate all the equipment it has.

Right now, the present department strength is 41 men including the chief and assistant chief. "We need a total of 58 men to come up to full strength," Mertz explained.

According to the chief, the fire inspector would handle public relations and possibly function as the department's training officer.

"We should have a full-time mechanic so we can keep our equipment in the best possible condition at all times," Mertz said. Currently, a fireman handles the mechanical duties.

Planning sessions on the need for a conference center to serve community individuals and groups involved in university programs conducted by Extension Services, the School of Business Administration and other similar divisions. Tentative plans for a center are tied to the university's centennial in 1971.

Police Pay Package Shows 28 Per Cent Hike

NEENAH — The Neenah Professional Policeman's Association has submitted a salary and fringe benefit package which calls for a 28.35 per cent increase over the present contract.

The finance committee bargaining team and representatives of the police association met Tuesday night in the first negotiation session to review the demands.

As presented, the demands call for an 18 per cent across-the-board salary increase plus another 10.35 per cent in fringe benefits.

The total package would cost the city an estimated $71,881. In 1969, police were granted a contract package valued at about 11 per cent, including a $35 per month pay increase on Jan. 1, 1969, and another $20 per month on July 1.

Demands submitted to the finance committee Tuesday night would result in an average monthly pay hike of $116 per man, according to statistics compiled by R. V. Hauser, city director of administration.

In addition to the salary requests, the association asked for longevity of 3, 6 and 9 per cent at five year intervals up to 15 years.

Other demands include double time on holidays which would be a 2.24 per cent increase and would cost $5,667; one additional holiday to bring the number of paid holidays to eight; a 25-cent-an-hour shift differential which would cost $4,290, and overtime pay for scheduled school training and vacation relief, estimated to cost $2,258.

An expanded vacation policy was asked which calls for two weeks after one year; three weeks after eight years; four weeks after 12 years; five weeks after 20 years; and six weeks after 25 years. The cost to the city for this would be about $1,974.

The association also asked that the city pick up the payments on the three life insurances now available to the policemen. This would cost $2,270.

Sick leave, now set at 10 days a year, was asked to be expanded to 12 days a year cumulative to 120.

The other two demands included a decrease of the number of police science credits from nine to six before an after pleading guilty of vagrancy.

Geborek appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 where he explained that he had left home, was asked to leave a relative's house and had no place to stay. He said he plays in a band.

Appleton police said they found him in the alley about 2 a.m. Tuesday. He told the court he "makes enough money" but that he uses the money to drink.

Here's an Example of how a convenience food can lend glamor to a traditional dish to make it more exciting. Garlic Flavored Barbecue Sauce is used as a brush-on for broiled flank steak. It's used to delectable advantage in the Mariachi Salad, too.

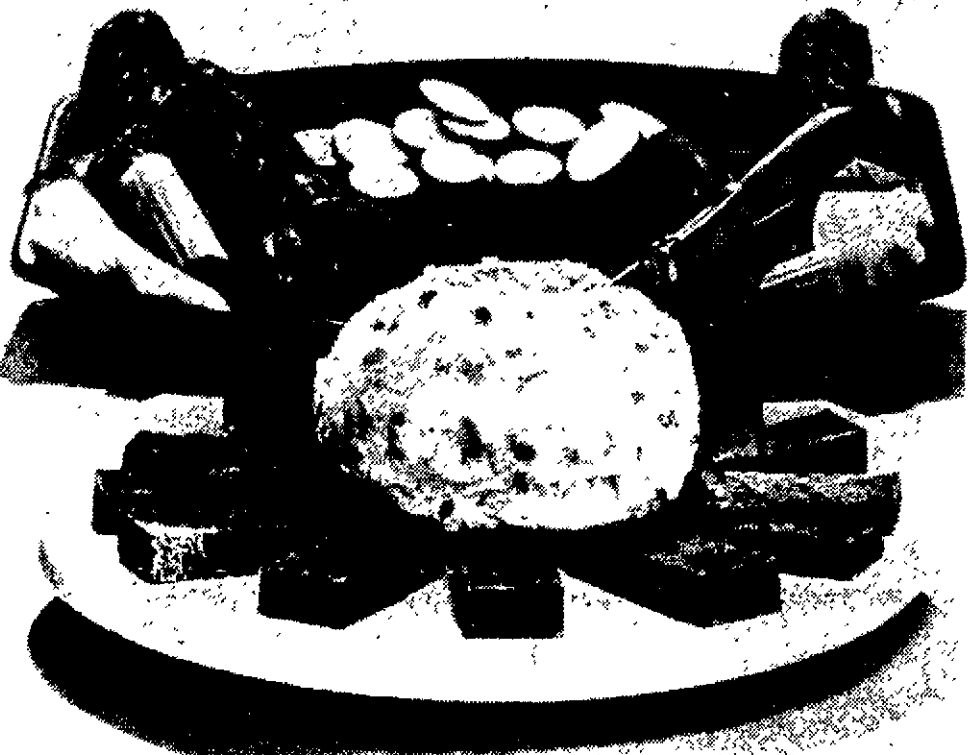

A Different Tea Treat Is Gauja, a cardamon-spiced little twist with an outer coating of tea syrup. Based on an old, old recipe from India, these pastries get their unusual flavor from a modern American convenience product, namely instant tea powder.

This Gala Chicken and Rice is a southwestern border version of a popular duo for special occasions. Chicken breasts make meaty morsels when they top a rice casserole that bakes to perfection in combination with chicken broth, pimiento, parsley, salt and butter.

The delicate and flavorful mixture of South African lobster meat is combined with butter, cream cheese, egg and a few pleasant seasonings. POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR
by Lillian Mackesy

CHICAGO — That's what it is, all right, super-cali-fragil-istic-expi-ali-docious, to borrow a phrase from the famous Mary Poppins. The words "fabulous," "wonderful," "sensational" simply aren't superlative enough to describe the annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference going on all this week at the Drake Hotel. Every meal is a tasting event for the 150 or more food editors attending the conference and every day is an adventure.

Since the banquet Sunday night, the time has gone by swiftly with notebooks being filled with facts and fancies, recipes and new products as editors attend breakfast lectures, luncheon programs, afternoon meetings and dinner sessions. Each one has its special host... with a coterie of hospitable people making the days and evenings magnificent affairs.

It's fun to hear about all the new products, taste the delightful foods (the meals are not like home at all, but one special surprise after another), listen to experts on nutrition, food trends, creative cookery and the role of the food editor in all this.

There's so much to see, consider and hear that the story can't all be told at one time. The setting of the food industry's all-out welcome certainly is elegant, but most important is the friendliness, the hospitality of all the people running the show.

This Tempting Array of Appetizers prove a point — appetizers can be appetite teasers. The Smokey Mushroom Cheese Ball is two-toned with its pale orange outside and creamy white inside. Delectable Rice Balls are at the right, and the others are Swiss Canape Broils, Crescents and Polynesian Crab Dip.

Oct. 3 to 8 in Madison Food Makes Big News, Says World Dairy Expo Coordinator

Take it from Betty Grayson, a woman who should know, food news is big news throughout the U.S. today — better read or listened to than many of the stories that hit the front pages.

Mrs. Grayson, whose home base is Madison, can speak with considerable authority on the subject. In her present position as field demonstrator and lecturer, Mrs. Grayson has participated in more than 2,000 demonstrations and interviews on foods and food preparation with TV, radio and newspapers throughout the U.S. and Canada.

That's why Mrs. Grayson is so enthusiastic about her current assignment as coordinator of food demonstrations for the 1969 World Dairy Expo and Mid-America Festival of Fun and Food that will be presented by the World Food and Agricultural Foundation at the Dane County Exposition Center in Madison Oct. 3-8.

"I believe that we have as impressive a schedule of food demonstrations and as prominent a cast of demonstrators as has ever been assembled before for a food show," Mrs. Grayson said. She pointed out that the cast of distinguished food experts would include representatives of the National Livestock and Meat Board, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, the American Lamb Council, and numerous nationally known food companies.

Homemakers in Program

Mrs. Grayson hastened to emphasize that all of the show's performers would not be professionals. Wisconsin homemakers who won honors in the Dairy Bake-off contest of the American Dairy Association of Wisconsin will be featured with their prize-winning recipes each day.

The setting for these culinary demonstrations will be the Family Living Center in the Fun With Food building being sponsored by the Wisconsin Utilities Association at the Expo. On equipment ranging from patio gas grills to electronic ovens, food specialists will demonstrate new equipment, new foods, new ideas and new recipes.

For the convenience of the audience this year, the Satellite kitchens area at Expo will have expanded seating capacity and a big 8 by 12 foot television screen will give those present a close-up view of all action on the stage.

This is a big improvement over the conditions that have prevailed in many of the demonstrations that Mrs. Grayson has given over the past 20 years throughout the country in TV stations and before various live audiences.

Travelling Kitchen

Because of the uncertainty as to the facilities that she may encounter, Mrs. Grayson has developed a traveling kitchen that she can pack in an ordinary suitcase. Despite the fact that cooking a meal on a makeshift table backstage without a range, refrigerator or sink can present many problems, Mrs. Grayson has found her experiences as a food demonstrator very thrilling and rewarding.

One of her favorites was the Fran Allison show on WGN-TV. The orchestra struck up a bright tune as she walked onto the stage with a tray of appetizers, and proceeded to eat all the "goodies" she had prepared at the conclusion of the show.

"Everyone was so friendly and nice that momentarily I felt like a star," Mrs. Grayson said.

On another "Today"-type interview show at a big TV studio in Hollywood, the announcer spent nearly three minutes more than the allotted time with Mrs. Grayson while the current Miss America was waiting in the wings as the next guest.

"Who says the way to a man's heart isn't through his stomach?" was her comment on this experience.

Actually, Mrs. Grayson has found in her food demonstrations throughout the country that many men today are as interested in cooking as women. Several will have a part in the Expo demonstrations, she said.

Wipe Away 'Fog'

Light bulbs are often overlooked in housekeeping schedules. An occasional wiping with a sudsy sponge will quite literally brighten the scene. Dust creates a "fog" on the glass and inhibits light passing through from the filament.

Speed Up Benefits Of Oil Treatment

Look for Seasonal Buys In Fresh Produce, Meat

Apples are plentiful this fall in Wisconsin. With the many varieties to choose from, it's wise to know which will best suit the family needs, according to Rosemary Stare, consumer marketing specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

Northwest Greening apples are an excellent choice for baking or cooking purposes. Good eating varieties include the Red Delicious, Golden Delicious and the Jonathan. All-purpose varieties like McIntosh, Cortland or Wealthy are good either raw or cooked.

Select apples that are firm, ripe and free from bruises. Buy apples in quantities that can be used in a short time and place them in plastic bags in cool storage to retain their quality.

Four further information on apple selection, care and use, send for the pocket size guide, "All About Apples." Consumer Marketing Specialist, 148 Home Economics Building, Madison, 53706.

Fresh peach supplies are dwindling, but canned peaches may be featured this month. Fresh pear crops are large so the prices should remain reasonable.

New crop Florida grapefruit is becoming more available and the quality is good for this early in the season. A large citrus crop is expected this year.

Chuck and ground beef are the most featured red meats but expect features on steak in the next few weeks. Broiler-fryer chicken and pork remain good buys this month. Eggs continue to be an economical protein source.

Potatoes, squash, cabbage and carrots remain good quality and reasonably priced.

Basic Black Returns in the shape of a curvy pantsuit ala tuxedo modeled by Miss Pam Radtke and a smartly banded after-five dress worn with pearls by Mrs. Sophie Gloss. Admiring the two ensembles is Mrs. William Grubb, fashion show chairman.

For the more than 480 women who attended The King's Daughters Service Circle's 1969 fall fashion show Monday at Butte des Morts, the message was a personal one from Miss Kay Grube to the individualist.

As H. C. Prange's fashion coordinator and the show's commentator, Miss Grube selected and interpreted tasteful ensembles blending the classic with up-to-the-minute trends reflecting the ages and many-faceted personalities of women.

Illustrating Miss Grube's contention that "there will be no one look, no one shape, no one length of skirt" was a well received procession of models presenting hemlines ranging from mini to maxi, the entire spectrum in solids and prints, fluid as well as crisp fabrics, wandering waistlines, the layered look and one piece outfits. Coordinating the wide variety of ways to look fashionable this fall and winter were long scarves, chains and chunky, yet gracefully sculptured shoes.

Chairman was Mrs. William Grubb assisted by Mrs. Patrick Toal, publicity, and Mrs. Arthur Diedrich, Mrs. W. B. Jordan, Mrs. Norman Troemel and Mrs. Howard Crabb, tickets. Welcoming the group was Mrs. S. H. Van Steen, president.

Proceeds will be donated to the Service Circle Emergency Fund and the state King's Daughters Silvercrest Home for Girls, Neenah.

Welcoming Fashion show goers, Mrs. William Melzer, Mrs. John Dever and Mrs. Ronald Gray is Mrs. S. H. Van Steen. At left, Neenah residents, Mrs. Wilbur Porter Jr., Mrs. Robert

Murray, Mrs. William Shy and Mrs. William Carney look forward to the preview of fall and winter fashions that awaits just inside the doors of Butte des Morts Golf Club.

Century Club Dance Saturday At Riverview

Appleton Century Club has planned its first fall party Saturday evening at Riverview Country Club. General chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Vilas Gehin. Hosts for pre-dinner parties will be Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wuerger, 510 W. Seymour St.; Mr. and Mrs. William Shockley, 3424 Lexington Drive; Dr. and Mrs. Edward Zeiss, 1240 E. Opechee St. and Mr. and Mrs. Urban Van Susteren, 1107 E. Nevada St.

Helf-Larsen

LITTLE CHUTE — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Helf have announced the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Charles D. Larsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ogg, Heron Lake, Minn.

The wedding ceremony was performed Sept. 6 at RAF Lakenheath, England.

Honor attendants were Miss Helen Rice, McAllen, Tex., and Thomas Hunter, Dallas, Tex.

Capt. and Mrs. Larsen are assigned to the Air Force Hospital at Lakenheath.

After a honeymoon in France and Spain, the couple resides at Brandon, England.

Haupt-Day

WITTENBERG — Married in a recent wedding at Holy Family Catholic Church were Miss Lynda Leah Haupt and Kenneth Day.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Haupt and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Day, Eland.

Miss Paula Haupt, a sister of the bride, and Daniel Day, a brother of the bridegroom, were honor attendants.

Warren Day, Randall Haupt, Dave Boda and Dale Hegewald were groomsmen. Robert J. Haupt and Larry Day seated guests.

The couple greeted guests at a reception at Chet and Emil's Ballroom, Birmingwood.

Mr. Day is a student at River Falls State University. They will reside at Rice Lake.

Tantrums and How to Handle Them

A newborn baby has tantrums, of course. But these occur because he is totally unaware of the fact that he'll be changed or fed as soon as a possible, once he shows that he is wet or hungry. But he has no idea of time and cannot recognize the signs that could tell him that his bottle is on its way or that he'll soon be dry. Your toddler, while still uncertain of some of these things, should be able to control himself to some extent.

About the time your infant understands that he can make his influence felt by talking, by agreeing to or refusing things you want him to do, he'll be likely to lose his temper now and then. At first this will merely be an accidental loss of control. But he may also deliberately begin to let go of his inhibitions and controls. He'll have a tantrum.

If your toddler is reasonably average in his development, and is mentally and physically healthy, some of his tantrums, if he has them, are a test. He is testing you and what is permissible. He is testing to see what lengths he may go to in order to teach him that he himself must keep himself and his feelings within certain bounds.

These controls and necessary inhibitions on behavior must be learned. Some children learn some of them intuitively. All learn through trial and error. Every child needs direction and guidance on when, how and where he must control his behavior in his own best interest and that of the world around him. There is no pat formula for teaching every child these essential lessons. But there is a general approach that applies to all.

Be sympathetic and loving to your child when he is genuinely hurt or unhappy. Allow him

Don't Get Overheated By Working

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Now that the weather's a bit cooler, we can play more bridge. A bridge player uses his brains so furiously that he's in danger of getting overheated and exploding if he picks the wrong time of the year for his exercise. See if you can work up a sweat over today's hand, taken from "Hold Our Bridge Hands," by Charles J. Solomon and Bert Wilson.

and East overtakes with the queen just in case West's card happens to be a singleton. East continues with the ace of spades and then the king.

The average declarer works himself into a lather at this trick. He fingers the ten of hearts and the queen of hearts, trying to choose which card to play on the king of spades.

The ten of hearts will be high enough if East happens to have the jack. But if West has the jack of hearts, South probably considers ruffing with the queen of hearts. Then he will be safe if the jack of hearts is singleton or part of a doubleton.

Both Fail

Both plans happen to fail. If South ruffs with the ten, West overtrumps with the jack. If South ruffs with the queen, West's jack becomes set up for a later trump trick. South eventually loses a diamond trick as well. Down one.

South can keep cool if he doesn't ruff the third spade at all. He should discard the low diamond, allowing East to win the trick. If East then leads a fourth spade, South ruffs low. If

Party Crashers Simply Uninvited People

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Friday night I had a slumber party — eight girls, all 16 and 17 years old. About 10:30 p.m. five fellows dropped in. They had heard about the party and decided to say hello. They were well behaved, sober and there was no roughhousing.

This evening my parents gave me a blistering lecture on "party crashers." They said I should not have let the boys in the house. I say party crashers are people who show up uninvited and wreck a place. Please set my parents straight. — Gracious Hostess

Dear Grace: Sorry, but party crashers are people who show up uninvited. Whether they wreck the joint or not doesn't alter their status.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please print this. Maybe it will knock some sense into the heads of foolish kids who think fun is more important than a child.

A young couple was packed to go on a week's trip. The babysitter was supposed to arrive at noon. The plane was due to leave at 1. At 12:15 the babysitter had not yet arrived, so the couple took off leaving their ten-month-old child in the high chair. They left the door ajar with a note telling the West then overtrumps, dummy can win with the ace of trumps. South can then easily draw the trumps and claim the rest of the tricks.

Answer: Bid 3-NT. Since you have 10 points in high cards you know that the combined count is 26 to 28 points. This should be enough for game at notrump, but may not produce 11 tricks at diamonds.

returned and found the baby just as they had left her — sitting in the high chair — unconscious. The child is now in the hospital hovering between life and death.

Please print this, Ann. Maybe someone, somewhere will learn from it. — Troy, Ohio.

Dear Troy: Thank you for writing. It's hard to believe there are people in this world who would leave a baby alone and not check back. But after writing this column for almost 15 years, I would believe anything.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Ordinarily I don't care what other folks do, but in this particular case, I need your opinion, because it involves two and a half days pay. I run a small

The wind must have blown the door shut because when the sitter arrived she couldn't get in. She assumed the parents had taken the baby along.

They Prefer Roast Beef and Black Coffee

Post-Crescent Food Editor

CHICAGO — If the average newspaper food editor had her mother-in-law for dinner, she would serve a hot, clear soup, roast beef, baked potato, asparagus, a salad with vinegar and oil dressing, pie and black coffee.

That's a composite picture, pieced together from the first 100 replies by newspaper food editors to a survey of their personal food preferences.

The mail survey was conducted by Borden, Inc., among editors throughout the country attending their 27th annual week-long conference here. Borden was host to the group at a dinner meeting Monday night in the Drake Hotel.

Despite their knowledge of foods and cookery, 15 editors answering the survey said they would take their mothers-in-law out to dinner, while two said they would have their guests do the cooking. One editor threatened to leave her husband if his mother came to dinner.

The editors expressed a wide range of personal food preferences and eating habits. Asked to name their favorite soup, for example, they came back with 25 different varieties, with vegetable (12) and clam chowder (5) heading the list. Most like it hot, however, by a margin of almost nine to one, while clear soup has a not so clear majority over creamed of about five to four.

About three-quarters of the editors agree that meat is their favorite entree, and eight out of 10 of these agree on beef, with about half (28) naming roast beef as first choice and 24 naming steak. Lamb got three first-place votes; pork and veal, two each.

Fish was the favorite entree of almost one-quarter of the editors, with a little under half of these choosing shell fish.

Chicken was the only poultry listed, garnering six votes.

Ninety-seven of the 100 editors surveyed eat potatoes, and three-fourths of those who do, prefer them baked. Ten other styles share top spot with the remaining editors, with half naming whipped potatoes.

Given a choice of vegetables, one editor in four would select asparagus; one in eight, either corn or broccoli. The editors gave little support to popeye's education effort: only three named spinach as their favorite vegetable.

The peach, strawberry, and melon ran a close race among 21 entries in the favorite-fruit category, together accounting for more than half of all ballots. One editor, a purist, named the tomato, which is botanically a berry and only in law a vegetable. Another listed as her favorite fruit the "dedine," which although not listed in any dictionary is believed to be a distant relative of the carpathian cherry.

The food editors were least in agreement on desserts, naming 41 different first choices. Pie, however, had a clear plurality, garnering 23 votes to 12 for ice cream, the other dessert mentioned most. Only one editor specified apple pie, while two editors specified cherry pie. Three editors listed "Chocolate anything" as their favorite, and another editor — a host's ideal dinner guest — listed just "anything."

Beta Sigma Phi Will Meet In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE — About 400 sorority sisters of Beta Sigma Phi from 25 Wisconsin cities, including Appleton, will meet for a reunion Oct. 17 to 19 at the Sheraton-Schroeder Hotel. Membership of the international professional sorority includes Mrs. Richard Nixon, who was installed at the Founder's Day celebration last spring at Whittier, Calif., and her late mother-in-law, Mrs. Hannah Nixon, who was also an International Honorary Member.

The 92 state chapters will be represented at the first convention in Milwaukee since 1956. Mrs. Joseph A. Blazek is chairman.

Walter W. Ross III, Kansas City, will be principal speaker at the dinner Oct. 18. His late father founded Beta Sigma Phi as a non-profit society to bring together women in the professions and business as a force in helping charitable organizations achieve their goals, including some financial assistance. Self-improvement is another goal.

The Saturday sessions will be filled with forums for discussing projects. A brunch Sunday morning at the new Performing Arts Center will conclude the reunion.

Tips Food Feature at 1969 World Dairy Expo

Homemakers will learn how to stretch the family meat dollar at the 1969 World Dairy Expo at the Dane County Exposition Center in Madison Oct. 3-8.

One of the 17 nationally known food experts who will participate in Expo's demonstrations in the 'Fun With Food' building is Sandra University where her studies included courses in the field of animal science.

CHUCK ROAST

- 4 pounds blade chuck roast
  - 2 cups dairy sour cream
  - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
  - 4 cloves garlic, crushed
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons white pepper
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons celery salt
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 teaspoon paprika
  - 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
  - 1/2 pounds fresh mushrooms, sliced, or 8 ounces canned sliced mushrooms
  - 3 green onions, finely chopped
  - 6 tablespoons butter
- Combine sour cream with lemon juice, garlic, pepper, celery salt, paprika, salt and Worcestershire sauce and thoroughly mix — or mix in electric blender. Pour mixture over chuck roast, in a shallow baking dish. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Preheat oven to 300 degrees. Remove roast from marinade mixture; place on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. Roast, uncovered, for approximately 2 1/2 hours (35 minutes per pound). (Use meat thermometer to be assured of the desired degree of doneness.)
- Saute fresh mushrooms in

Valley Campus Offers Courses In Literature

"Giles Goat Boy" (Section I) by John Barth is the subject of the next course to be offered in the Continuing Education program of the Fox Valley Campus of the University of Wisconsin. The author and this book are of increasing importance in understanding current unrests on college campuses and in society. The first of five meetings will be from 9:15 to 10:15 a.m. Oct. 6. The book is available in paperback at Conkey's Bookstore.

Section II of the book will be discussed at the same time from Nov. 17 to Dec. 15. The sections may be taken independently, but it is suggested that one enroll in both.

There will be five 30-minute Tuesday sessions on The Dynamic Self, on the Educational Telephone Network, at 9:15 a.m. from Oct. 7 through Nov. 4. The following topics will be covered: "The Inner Core," "The Moving Finger Having Writ," "Self-Appraisal," "As Others See Us" and "The Integrated You."

A second unit in the Albert Camus studies will begin Oct. 6. Meeting time is from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. for the five sessions on "The Plague." The environmental relationship of Oran to the work will also be considered. The book is available in paperback at Conkey's Bookstore.

Youth Faces 3 Drug Counts

Hearing on Charges Asked After Waiver From Juvenile Court

Three drug and narcotics counts were lodged against a 17-year-old Appleton youth late Tuesday afternoon, shortly after he was waived from Juvenile Court jurisdiction.

Frank Cardin, 1313 E. Tracy St., asked for a preliminary hearing on charges of delivering a dangerous drug without a prescription on Aug. 22, possessing a dangerous drug on Sept. 12, and possessing a narcotic drug on Sept. 12. He is free on $1,500 bond.

Two Appleton Police Department detectives and two social workers testified during the two-hour waiver hearing before Juvenile Court Judge Raymond P. Dohr. Cardin's attorney indicated he might appeal the waiver decision.

Det. George Weaver produced a written statement he had obtained from a 19-year-old Appleton youth who last month was placed on probation for possessing LSD. The youth turned himself in to police after his 16-year-old girlfriend was hospitalized after the two of them took LSD.

According to the statement

from Cardin Aug. 22. Weaver said the girl gave a supporting report introduced into evidence Tuesday stated the material included five small packets of hashish (a resinous derivative of marijuana), three LSD tablets, and one amphetamine tablet.

The second two charges were brought after police allegedly found drugs and narcotics on him when they took him into custody at Appleton High School East Sept. 12.

Sgt. Philip Condu testified that just prior to a personal search of Cardin, the youth removed two foil-wrapped

A State Crime Laboratory report introduced into evidence Tuesday stated the material included five small packets of hashish (a resinous derivative of marijuana), three LSD tablets, and one amphetamine tablet.

KAUKAUNA — Bids on two squad cars for the police department will be opened at a meeting of the public protection and safety committee at 6 p.m. today in the council chambers.

Probably the most likeable outlaws in the frontier history, Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid robbed trains and banks. They smashed an army of lawmen hired by the ranchers, and four troops of U.S. Cavalry. In the early 1900's Butch, Sundance and the latter's schoolteacher-girl friend wound up in Bolivia where the silver and gold mines meant "payrolls so big we'd strain our backs stealing 'em." With all its fast draws, wild rides, acrobatic escapes and torrid love affair, "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" also packs a terrific comedy wallop.

Jack Lord Finally Has Success With TV Series

'Hawaiian Five-O' Has Renewed Life, New Contract After Time Slot Change

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HONOLULU (AP) — "I've been prospecting a long time, and finally I've hit pay dirt." This was a different, more confident Jack Lord, enjoying the euphoria of a success.

Last summer the actor seemed uptight. He was working at a furious pace on a new television series, "Hawaiian Five-O," and the tension was apparent. CBS' most expensive show — a quarter-million dollars per segment — was resting on his broad shoulders.

The situation worsened when the series failed to generate a respectable rating in the Thursday-8 time slot. No wonder, Lord said, "we had the 'great' lead-in of 'Blondie,' and we were pre-empted four times in the first nine weeks."

Ratings Drop
"Hawaiian Five-O" plummeted to 65th place in the ratings out of 78 shows, and TV insiders had written it off as another costly flop.

"Then on Christmas night, Mike Dann (CBS program boss) gave us the best present we could possibly have received," recalled Lord. "He switched the time period to Wednesday at 10. On that night we were 45th out of 78 shows, and we've been constantly building so that the last rating had us No. 9."

Why did the later time slot make such a difference? Apparently because the series appealed to a more mature audience. Also, the later hour permitted "Hawaiian Five-O" to deal more frankly with matters that wouldn't have been deemed suitable for young viewers.

Now Sold Out
Now the show is sold out for sponsorship through the 1969-70 season. Said Lord: "If we can make it through two seasons, we ought to be able to last for five. That would suit me fine. I would rather do good TV than bad movies. And considering the stuff that is coming out of Hollywood and Europe these days, I'm glad I'm not doing movies. I'm no prude, but if you've got to include lascivious and erotic material in films to succeed nowadays, then I'd rather not be in films."

Lord may be the hardest working actor in television. He's up at 4 a.m. to study his lines, then he jogs a mile along the Kahala beach in front of his condominium apartment, reports to the set at 6:30 a.m. He works a minimum 12-hour day six days a week and one week clocked 84 hours.

Such a schedule will make him a very tired but very rich actor.

"After five years I'll be able to do what I want," he remarked in the $35,000 land yacht which he designed and bought to bring comfort to his work day.

"By that time I'll be able to retire with a couple of million dollars. Then I'd like to paint for eight hours a day, six months a year, and direct a feature movie each year. And I'll be able to see my wife eight hours a day, instead of this movie crew."

Lord stars in the series as Steve McGarrett, head of a mythical state agency to fight crime. Lord's McGarrett is so tough and tight-lipped that Jack Webb's Joe Friday might seem like a laughing boy in comparison. That will be modified in the new season, Lord indicated.

"You have to make your mark in the first year. Now we'll be able to mellow McGarrett a bit," he remarked. "Leonard (Freeman, executive producer) has been trying to get a little humor into the lines, and now we'll have some involvement with women. McGarrett never had time for that before."

The car was westbound on 156 when it was struck by a southbound freight train. Damage to the right rear of the car totaled $600.

form a soft ball. Divide dough into 36 parts. Roll each part into a thin circle; make slit in center, then twist.
Fry twisted dough in deep hot fat (375 degrees) until light brown and crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Soak cakes in tea syrup for a few minutes; remove to wire rack. Sprinkle with ground cardamon. Allow to dry on rack about 3 to 4 hours. Recipe makes 36 tea cakes.

HERITAGE CHICKEN AND RICE
1 cup uncooked rice
2½ cups boiling chicken broth
1-3 cup diced pimiento
2 tablespoons chopped parsley, optional
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 teaspoons garlic salt
2 teaspoons celery salt
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
3 chicken breasts, halved, boned and skinned
1 tablespoons capers, optional
¼ cup sliced ripe olives
In a 3-quart casserole combine rice, chicken broth, pimiento, parsley, salt and butter. Stir well. Combine garlic salt, celery salt, paprika and pepper. Sprinkling over chicken. Place chicken in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes, or until chicken and rice are tender. Stir in capers and olives. Recipe makes six servings.

ROCK LOBSTER SPREAD
24 ounces frozen South African rock lobster tails
1 cup soft sweet butter
3 ounces cream cheese
2 tablespoons drained capers
½ cup minced celery
1 dill pickle, minced
1 hard cooked egg, sieved
Celery pieces, carrot slices, radish slices, sal-tines, strips of pumpernickel
Drop frozen rock lobster tails into boiling salted water. When water reboils, boil for 2 to 3 minutes. Drain immediately and drench with cold water. With scissors remove underside membrane. Remove meat and chop finely.
Mix lobster meat with remaining ingredients and mash until well blended.
Shape mixture into a ball.
Serve with a spreader. Spread on celery, carrots, radishes, saltines or pumpernickel. Can be prepared ahead of time and chilled. Remove from refregator 30 minutes before serving.

frozen chopped chives
3 ounces cream cheese, softened
3 ounces smoke flavor
cheese food
Parsley for garnish
Beat 8 ounces cream cheese with butter until light and fluffy. Chop mushrooms, reserving a few slices for garnish.
Add chopped mushrooms and chives to cheese mixture. Shape into a ball in a small bowl;
cover and refrigerate until firm.
Beat 3 ounces cream cheese

with smoke flavor cheese food wise and wrap bread around until light and fluffy. Keep at room temperature.
Remove mushroom-cheese mixture from bowl; reshape into a smooth ball. Place on plate or cheese board. Frost with smoky cheese mixture.
Garnish with reserved mushro-
m slices and fresh parsley.

Health of the wife is another reason. Sometimes the intention is to overcome a neurotic fear of pregnancy, but a good sexual life in marriage does not necessarily come as a result. I suspect that you will have trouble finding a surgeon who would agree to operate on a healthy young man about to be married or recently married. I don't think you have thought of things through very well indeed, if you gather the impression that I think you are an opinionated and selfish young woman, you aren't far wrong. Give some more serious thought to the situation.

The incubation period for in- fectious hepatitis is two to six weeks; therefore, you must have become infected well after the third month of pregnancy, and I would not expect there to be any ill effects on the baby.

Note to R. A. F.: No, there's no known cure for epilepsy. However, medications now in common use are very effective in preventing convulsions.

To Meet at Y
"An Interesting Woman is . . . Happy!" will be the theme of the Thursday evening meeting of the Appleton Toastmistress Club at the YMCA. Mrs. Clifford Braeger will be toastmistress. After a business meeting, Mrs. Tom Neuman will propose table topics on the evening's central theme. Miss Clarice Stake will conduct a parliamentary workshop and Mrs. John Reinders will give her speech of introduction. "Mirror, Mirror on the Wall, She's the Happiest of All," is the title of a skit to be given in three presentations by Mrs. Richard Reetz. Mrs. Max Freeman and Mrs. Louis Schulze. Program timer will be Mrs. Edward Monroe; general evaluator, Mrs. Gordon Lathrop, and closing thought, Mrs. Wilbur Hack.

Mrs. James Nolan, club president and representative, attended the fall meeting of Council 4, Land O'Lakes Region, International Toastmistress Clubs at Sheboygan. She extended the invitation of the Appleton club to be hosts for the April 4 council meeting. Mrs. Reetz led the Pledge of Allegiance; Mrs. Monroe was program timer; Mrs. Louis Vanevenhoven presented the Council budget, and Miss Clarice Stake was council chairman.

Friday's Games:
New London at Clintonville.
Two Rivers at Kimberly.

Saturday's Games:
Menasha at Shawano.
Ashland at Kaukauna (non-conf.)

Kimberly's high-flying Papermakers run up against the defending champion of the Mid-Eastern Conference, Two Rivers, in the loop's feature contest this weekend.

While some of the glamor was rubbed off the game when Kaukauna pulled a 14-8 surprise victory on the Two Rivers Raiders last weekend, it still looms as one of the toughest blocks in the march to the championship for the Papermakers.

The contest will be played at Kimberly Friday night and in another Friday affair, New London will be at Clintonville. To round out league competition, Menasha will travel to Shawano Saturday while Kaukauna entertains Ashland in a non-conference game also on Saturday.

4-0 for Season
Coach Jack Wippich's powerful Papermakers are unbeaten in three Mid-Eastern outings and sport a 4-0 mark for the season. Even more outstanding is the defensive record of the team which shows that the Papermakers have been scored on only once in those four games.

McLain to Get $90,000 for '70 Season

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain, the Detroit Tigers' pitching ace, isn't going to get that talked-about $100,000 next year but he may come close.

A team spokesman announced Tuesday that McLain, 24-9, signed a 1970 contract last week.

While terms of the contract were not announced, the speculation was that he will be getting $90,000, up from $65,000 this year.

McLain, who won 31 games and the Cy Young Award last year, has additional income as an entertainer and from other business interests.

'Best Team I've Seen All Year'

Vikings Impress Packer Scout

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — "That," Super Scout said solemnly, "is the best team I've seen this year."

As may already have been gathered, Wally Cruice was describing the formidable Minnesota Vikings, whom he recently watched demolish the Baltimore Colts.

It may be of little cheer to Packerphiles but the veteran analyst, here Tuesday to brief the Bays on their next opponents, has an impressive basis for comparison in making his somewhat chilling assessment of the Vikes.

Through the exhibition schedule and the first two weeks of the regular season, the former University of Northwestern star has seen virtually every team in the National Football League, including such talented ensembles as the Los Angeles Rams, tabbed by some pundits to go all the way this year, the Dallas Cowboys, and Cleveland Browns, in addition to the Vikings.

Tough Assignment
All of which indicates the magnitude of the assignment but they also have learned how which lies before Phil Bengt-son's resurgent athletes in ancient Memorial Stadium at Minneapolis Sunday afternoon. Cruice admits that his estimate is based only on the way the Vikings played against the Colts.

"I don't know whether it was that the Colts were that bad or they were that good but, whatever it was, you still have to give the Vikings credit."

The Minnesotans had a powerful incentive, he noted, although the same set of circumstances existed for the Hosses, also 0-1 going into action.

Were Up For Game
"The Vikings had played a poor game the week before losing to the Giants, 24-23," he said, "and they knew another loss might have put them out of it in the Central Division race. So they had something to get up for."

Although Sunday's spectacular obviously was an unusual afterglow for the Vikings, Cruice admitted it was hardly an accident.

"They've got good personnel," he said, "and when you rate a team, it's got to be on personnel. They not only have how they play together real well.

Only the Clintonville Truckers have managed to get across the Kimberly goal line and a good example of the defensive prowess of the Papermakers was shown in last Friday's win over Shawano when the Indians were held to a minus-15 yards rushing.

While the defense of the Papermakers has been outstanding, the offense has been shifting into high gear, despite injuries to some key performers. Kimberly has rolled up 84 points in conference play and 14 for the season.

In last week's victory over Shawano, Tim Vander Velden again sparked the attack as he rushed for 108 yards in 18 carries and scored three touchdowns.

Kimberly amassed 387 total yards with quarterback Dan Blajeski having another good game via the airways despite the fact that ace receiver Gary Wyngaard was injured. Starting halfback Steve Van Hout also has been on the sidelines for the Papermakers since the opening game of the season against Little Chute St. John.

Two Rivers, with its 16-game winning streak shattered by Kaukauna last week, will hope to rebound against the Papermakers. It will be a tough assignment for the Raiders who could muster only 30 yards rushing and 61 by passing against the Ghosts.

If the Raiders are to contain the strong Kimberly attack, the defense will have to be alert the full 48 minutes. Kaukauna picked up 156 yards rushing against Two Rivers in that 14-8 victory.

Menasha and Shawano will both be looking for their first M-E victory of the season. The Bluejays have an 0-2-1 record, but have not scored a point. The tie resulted from a 0-0 deadlock with New London last Saturday.

Shawano has lost a pair of games while scoring 12 points and giving up 56. Menasha has allowed 32 points in its three games.

Washington gathered in two of Kapp's touchdown bombs of 83 and 42 yards among seven catches for 172 yards went out front among the receivers with 13 for 324 yards.

Hill had another big day, running for 141 yards and two touchdowns against New Orleans for the rushing lead with 208 yards.

Ben Hawkins, Philadelphia wide receiver, zoomed into the scoring lead with four touchdowns of Norm Snead's passes in the Eagles' victory over Pittsburgh. Hawkins season total is five touchdowns for 30 points.

Other individual leaders are Don Cockroft of Cleveland in punting with a 45.2-yard average. Doug Hart of Green Bay with two interceptions, Lem

Braves Edge Reds, 3-2; Face Mets in NL Playoff

Best-of-5 Set Begins Saturday

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It will be the vagabond Atlanta Braves against the Cinderella New York Mets in the National League's championship playoff series.

The Braves, who previously won National League pennants in Boston and Milwaukee, nailed down the West Division crown Tuesday night, topping Cincinnati 3-2 and dooming San Francisco to a fifth straight second place finish.

The Giants beat San Diego 6-1 and Los Angeles bowed to Houston 6-3 in the only other National League games played Tuesday night.

The Braves will send Phil Niekro, 23-13, against the Mets' Tom Seaver, 25-7, in the opening game of the best-of-five playoff Saturday in Atlanta. It was Niekro who got credit for Tuesday night's clincher over the Reds although he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Batted for Niekro
The Reds were leading 2-1 when Mike Lum opened the seventh with a single. Ralph Garr batted for Niekro and walked. Wayne Granger relieved Gary Nolan for the Reds and Felix Millan, attempting to sacrifice, forced Lum at third.

Then Tony Gonzalez' fourth hit of the night scored Garr with the tying run and after Hank Aaron walked, Rico Carty's sacrifice fly brought home the deciding run.

That left it up to Hoyt Wilhelm and the 46-year-old reliever set the Reds down in order over the last two innings, striking out three. Wilhelm is ineligible for the playoffs because he came to the Braves after the Sept. 1 deadline.

In the clubhouse, the champagne flowed freely. "Man, it's too good," exulted reliever Cecil Upshaw, offering cigars to dressing room visitors. "Oh happy day, oh happy day," shouted Carty.

Another Shot
"Beautiful, beautiful, beautiful," sang Orlando Cepeda, who made it to the World Series with St. Louis in each of the last two seasons before being traded in the spring and now has another shot at the classic.

Tommy Davis tagged his first home run since returning to the National League and helped Houston knock off his old teammates, the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Denny Lemaster pitched a four-hitter and the Astros moved to within one game of the slumping Dodgers for fourth place in the West Division. Norm Miller also homered for the Astros and Andy Kosco connected for the Dodgers.

Gaylord Perry scattered nine

The Big Three are still riding high and mighty, but some one better keep an eye on the Old Abes.

The Big Three—Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Madison La Follette—continued their domination of The Associated Press high school football poll this week, placing one, two and three respectively.

But, the Old Abes—Eau Claire

Memorial—are making a strong bid for a higher ranking.

The state's sportswriters and broadcasters cast ballots in the poll, with 10 points awarded a first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Memorial won its fourth game of the season last week by crushing Chippewa Falls 42-0. The Abes thus held on to fourth place in the Big Ten poll, ready to move up if any of the Big Three falter.

Antigo and Madison Edgewood were fifth and sixth, respectively, for a third straight week.

But the next four spots underwent drastic change.

Red Devils Jump
Green Bay East upped its record to 4-0, and its position from ninth to seventh. Three newcomers took over the last three spots—Milwaukee Boys Tech in eighth, Kimberly ninth and Brookfield Central 10th.

All 10 teams are undefeated. In the Little Ten, Durand retained its No. 1 ranking while Auburndale continued to fall despite a 5-0 record.

Two weeks ago, Auburndale was first. Last week, the Apaches slipped to second. Now, the Marawood Conference team

Bullets Down Bucks 120-113 In Exhibition

Alcindor Watches Game; Robinson Scores 37 Points

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Lew Alcindor and a lot of fans missed the entire game, but the seven minutes that Flynn Robinson missed might have cost the Milwaukee Bucks a victory.

The Baltimore Bullets won their first National Basketball Association pre-season game Tuesday night by downing the Bucks 120-113 behind Gus Johnson's 27 points.

Alcindor played without their top rookie, 7-foot-2 Alcindor, a three-time All-American. Alcindor sprained his ankle Sunday night in Wichita, Kan., and Coach Larry Costello held him out of Tuesday's contest.

Yet, the Bucks jumped off to a 12-point lead, 41-29, early in the second period before going into a deep freeze, point-wise. Baltimore outscored the Bucks 14-2 to deadlock the game at 43-43.

Rookie Forward
Mike Davis, a rookie forward, gave the Bucks a 59-57 half-time advantage.

Then, in the third period, Baltimore started controlling both boards and played tight defense to take an 81-71 bulge before Robinson, the hot-shooting Milwaukee guard, led a Bucks surge.

With Robinson and rookie Bob Dandridge doing most of the damage, Milwaukee pulled to within four points at 107-103 with 5:34 remaining in the game.

However, Milwaukee lost Robinson when he and Baltimore's Kevin Loughery were ejected from the game for fighting, and the Bullets ballooned their lead to 120-103.

Had 37 Points
Robinson finished the night with 37 points, topping all scorers. For Milwaukee, Don Smith and Len Chappell added 18 points each. Dandridge finished with 10, Guy Rodgers 8, Rodgers 8, Dick Cunningham 7, Rich Niemann 7, Sam Williams 6 and Jon McGlocklin 2.

Loughery scored 19 points for Baltimore. Ray Scott 18, Jack Marin 16, Earl Monroe, 16, Wes Unseld 8, Davis 8, Leroy Ellis 6 and Quick 2.

Yesterday's Stars
PITCHING — Gaylord Perry, Giants, scattered nine hits and struck out 14 pitching San Francisco to a 6-1 victory over San Diego.

Judy Fischer Cracks 554 in Womens Loop

Judy Fischer took the spotlight in the Ten Pin Toilers League at Hahn's Lanes Tuesday night as she rapped a pace-setting 554 total.

At 41 Bowl, Marvis Buboltz powered a 546 count to lead the Hit 'N Miss circuit. Carole Eckes was runnerup with 526.

Also at 41, Judy Schmidt toppled a 210 singleton on her way to 545 for honors in the Tag-A-Long League. Nancy Danielson's 212-534 aggregate was next, and Barbara Karweick added a 210 solo.

The Nite Out League at Sabre Lanes saw Joan Zolkowski boom a 223 game, and Yvonne Scherer had a 203.

Orioles Remain Short Of Reaching Million Mark in Attendance

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore's American League East Division champions will go to their final home date of the season Wednesday night still hoping to draw a total of one million fans.

Just 4,877 showed up to watch the Orioles lose to Detroit Tuesday night, bringing Baltimore's attendance for 72 dates to 996,589.

In any event, Baltimore will have drawn the fewest fans of any pennant winner since World War II.

Harry Hunt Cracks 715 National Series

Harry Hunt blasted the first men's national honor count of 245. Keith Barth came within one opening game to a 705 series in the Tri-City League at Sabre Lanes Tuesday night.

Hunt, who lives at 217 Madison St., Menasha, started with 10 strikes in a row before picking up eight pins in the 11th frame of his first game. It was his best single game in a 20-year bowling career.

After the 288 count, Hunt followed with a 214 and then closed with a 203. The pressure was on right down to the last frame as Hunt had a blow in his last game and was struggling with only 126 in the seventh frame. Harry then posted strikes in the eighth and ninth frames and also fired a strike on his first ball in the 10th to assure a shot at the magic 700 mark. He followed with seven pins and a spare to hit the 705 total.

Has 183 Average
Hunt carries a 183 league average and his previous high series was a 650 "a couple of years ago." He had 22 strikes in the three games, cleaned up one split and had only the one blow.

Other top scores from the Tri-City League included Bob Ross 235-597, Ray Crane 581, Jim said.

Like Playing in Poker Game Says Coach of Vikings

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota Vikings coach Bud Grant has described Sunday's 52-14 National Football League victory over the Baltimore Colts "like playing in a poker game."

"Everything you draw seems to work for you," he said. Grant gave several examples Tuesday night of things that could have gone wrong in the game—but didn't:

Dave Osborn wasn't supposed to go that long on the game's first touchdown pass.

Joe Kapp was supposed to throw to Bob Grim when he hit Kent Kramer for a touchdown.

Kapp was supposed to throw to Bill Brown on a screen pass when he hit Gene Washington for a 41-yard touchdown early in the second half.

"It was amusing to look back to see how we accomplished it. Some of this looks a lot better than we actually are," Grant said.

Don White Regains USAC Point Lead

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Don White of Keokuk, Iowa, a former champion and perennial contender, took over first place in United States Auto Club stock car racing standings during the weekend, replacing Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz.

There were no major changes in other USAC divisions.

The standings:

Championship

1. Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., 4,065; 2. Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., 2,125; 3. Gordon Johncock, Hastings, Mich., 1,890; 4. Don Gurney, Santa Ana, Calif., 1,400; 5. A.J. Foyt Jr., Houston, 1,370; 6. 20 "Knee", Albuquerque, N.M., 1,350; 7. Walley Gilchrist, Brunswick, N.J., 1,335; 8. Art Pollard, Medford, Ore., 1,100; 9. Roger McCluskey, Tucson, Ariz., 1,090; 10. Bill Vukovich, Fresno, Calif., 1,080.

Stock cars

1. Don White, Keokuk, Iowa, 3,679; 2. McCluskey, 3,683; 3. Foyt, 3,517; 4. Jack Bowcher, Springfield, Ohio, 2,543; 5. Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., 1,830.

Spring cars

1. Gary Bettenhouse, Tinley Park, Ill., 527.6; 2. Larry Dickson, Marietta, Ohio, 418.4; 3. Bill Finkenbaugh, Roxana, Ill., 286.2; 4. Cy Fairchild, Saginaw, Mich., 286.2; 5. Greg Weld, Independence, Mo., 287.3.

Homecoming Social Scheduled After Kimberly Grid Game

KIMBERLY — A Homecoming social for all adult fans of the Kimberly High School varsity football team will be held Friday night's Kimberly-Two Rivers football game in the Combined Locks pavilion. The event will be sponsored by the Papermaker Booster Club and is open to the public. Food and refreshments will be charged.

Wisconsin OUTDOORS

Two special bonus seasons highlight this year's waterfowl hunt that opens at noon Saturday throughout Wisconsin.

During the first nine days of the season through Oct. 12, hunters will be allowed two blue-winged teal in addition to the regular daily bag limit of four ducks.

Later, from Nov. 1 to Nov. 12, two bonus scaup ducks may be taken in addition to the season's regular daily bag.

Wisconsin duck hunters will have a basic 40-day season this fall beginning Saturday and ending Nov. 12. The daily bag of ducks may not include more than one canvasback or one redhead, one mallard, two wood ducks, or one hooded merganser.

Hunter Cooperation

The 1969 Wisconsin waterfowl regulations stress that bonus seasons depend upon hunter cooperation. With special seasons, the burden is upon the hunter to make certain that only legal ducks are shot.

Blue-winged teal have a pale blue forewing patch to aid identification. Blue-winged are often seen in small compact flocks flying low over marshes.

Scaup are frequently called "bluebills." In flight, both sexes show a light strip on the back edge of the wing. The hen, which is predominantly brown in color, has a light face mask. The drake is black on each end and white in the middle.

It takes considerable effort on the part of sportsmen to become expert in duck identification but it is becoming a must in this era of specialized regulations.

Two-thirds of locally available variable quota deer permits in the northeast district were taken up by hunters in the first two days of permit sales, reports John Berkahn, acting assistant district director of the Department of Natural Resources.

Vilas County was completely sold out by mid-afternoon of the first day. Permits remain available, however, at other county clerk offices throughout the northeast district as follows:

Antigo, units 38, 42, 43, 44, 46, 47, and 48; Crandon, units 38, 39, 40, and 45; Florence, units 39 and 40; Hurley, unit 7; Mariette, units 41 and 51; and Merrill, units 32, 42, 46 and 52.

Oconto, units 48, 51, 63; Rhinelander, units 38, 39, 42 and 43; Shawano, units 46, 47, 48, 62 and 63; and Wausau, units 46 and 62.

Through Mail

Deer party permits are also available by mail directly from Madison to hunters filing mail application cards. The cards can be picked up from any Department of Natural Resources field station or county clerk office.

Approximately half of the northeast district deer permits will be issued to hunters by random machine selection.

For those hunters who wish to make mail application for a deer permit, a $5 fee and all four party permit application stubs must be mailed to the Madison address listed on the application card no later than Oct. 17, 1969.

Unsuccessful applicants will have their cards and fees returned by Oct. 30, along with information as to what permits are still available for other units.

Oshkosh Still No. 1 in Poll; Kimberly 9th

Behind Auburndale are, in order, Royall, Chippewa Falls, McDonnell, Waupaca, Denmark, Peshtigo, Reedsville and Brodhead.

Take Fourth

Royall moved up one spot to fourth while McDonnell, a newcomer last week, jumped from a ninth-place tie to fifth. Waupaca, seventh last week, advanced one spot.

Denmark slipped from fourth to seventh, and the only newcomer in the Little Ten, Reedsville, opened its stay in ninth.

Gone from the Big Ten are South Milwaukee, Two Rivers and Racine Case. All lost last weekend.

In the Little Ten, Reedsville replaced St. Croix Central, which was held to a 6-6 tie.

one-time Canadian League star, tied an NFL record by pitching seven touchdown passes against the Colt defense last Sunday.

Despite those 52 points, offense is the not the Vikings only strength, Cruice further observed.

"They got the best front four in business," he declared. "Others have been more publicized, but theirs with Carl Eller, Alan Pave, Gary Larsen and Jim Marshall is the best. They also shored to their defense as a whole, and they play well together."

There is one other ingredient that was not present in 1968, when the Vikings won both ends of their home and home series with the Packers, 23-17, and 10-10.

Friday's games: Wrightstown at Brillion. Hilbert at Hortonville.

Saturday's games: Denmark at Winneconne. Shiocton at Freedom. Omro at Reedsville.

The Little Nine Conference's three remaining unbeaten — Hortonville, Reedsville, and Winneconne — will be hoping to keep their states spotless when they play host to trailing teams this weekend.

Each will be striving to protect perfect 4-0 marks attained thus far. The Wolves Conference playoff last season won by the Colts, 21-9, Cruice said, "matured them, too."

may have the toughest going as they face Denmark, a surprise 7-6 loser to defending co-champion Brillion last week, Saturday afternoon. The Vikes are now 3-1.

If all goes according to Hoyle, the Polar Bears and Panthers should emerge with their fifth triumphs. Hortonville, an easy 36-0 victory over Shiocton, entertains Hilbert Friday night, and Reedsville, which routed Hilbert, 40-12, welcomes Omro Saturday. Both opponents of the co-leaders own 0-3-1 marks.

Lions at Home

Resurgent Brillion, now 3-1 after losing its opener to Hortonville, 14-6, is likely to stay in the thick of things as it has a home tilt with Wrightstown Friday night. The Tigers have been toothless so far with an 0-4 mark.

Freedom (1-3), coming off a 32-6 thumping of Wrightstown, hopes to continue its bid for a place in the first division when Shiocton (0-4) invades Saturday afternoon.

Latest statistics show Reedsville and its players dominating many of the offensive categories.

The Panthers have rolled up 493 yards through the air to rank as No. 1 in that department. Winneconne is runnerup with 419 yards gained, and Brillion is third with 330.

The big reason Reedsville ranks first in the air is the performance of Bruce Behnke, who has accounted for 445 of those yards on 28 completions in 50 attempts to also head individual passers. He has had only one interception.

Behind Behnke is Winneconne's Mike Johnson, who has hit on 18 of 38 for all of the Wolves passing yardage — 419. Shiocton's Dick Clausen has thrown the most times, 76, and has completed 30 for 323 yards.

Vikings Best Rushers

In rushing, Denmark is far and away the top team with 1,080 yards gained. Hortonville ranks second with 673 yards, and Reedsville has gained 649 yards.

The individual spotlight in the league belongs to Reedsville's dandy running back, Jeff Barnard. Barnard is the conference leader in three categories.

The hard-running Panther heads the scorers with 74 points, the rushers with 427 yards in 35 carries (12.2 average), and the receivers with 250 yards gained in 13 catches (19.1 average).

Denmark's Nick Metz is runnerup in scoring with 44 points, and Hortonville's Mark Everts follows with 42 points. In rushing, Everts is runnerup to Barnard with 342 yards in 70 carries (4.9 average), and Bril-

McIntyre Aces 6th Hole at Reid

A. C. McIntyre, 1500 S. Memorial Drive in Appleton, slammed a hole-in-one at the Reid Municipal Golf Course Tuesday morning.

McIntyre ached the 130-yard No. 6 hole, using a 7-iron. Witnessing the feat were McIntyre's playing partners Al Briggs, Clarence Fieweger, Ralph Bedford, and John Oliver.

Trailing Barnard in pass receiving are Winneconne's Mike Lee (nine catches for 195 yards) and Hortonville's Ted Meyer (nine catches for 180 yards).

Reedsville has the most points in its four starts, 138, for an average of 34.5 per game, and is tied with Winneconne for least points allowed, 12.

Changes Seen In Hanoi Policy On U.S. POWs

Allowed to Talk
To N. Vietnamese

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam's willingness to see wives of imprisoned U.S. servicemen is being viewed here as a hopeful sign Hanoi may be re-evaluating its prisoner of war policies.

Pentagon officials also indicate belief the North Vietnamese move is a reaction to a Nixon administration campaign to focus international attention on the handling of American POWs.

This assessment came after North Vietnamese diplomats in Paris said Tuesday they would receive a new group of American women seeking information about husbands missing in the war.

Only a few days earlier the North Vietnamese delegation had for the first time met with four other American wives from Dallas, Tex., trying to find out whether their husbands are dead or alive.

See Encouragement

While North Vietnam's attitude toward such private meetings may prove to be of no significance, any sign of movement on the POW problem is encouraging, Pentagon officials say.

"They have had an indefensible world position," commented one official involved in day-to-day dealings with POW matters. "It has been not only wrong but also not smart. Now they may be looking for a way to ease themselves out of the fire."

North Vietnam may be holding as many as 900 Americans, most of them fliers shot down during the air war. The number is uncertain because Hanoi steadfastly has refused to provide a name list—an act which violates international agreements.

Avoided Comments

The Pentagon's official list of captured men totals 413 but there are 919 names on the missing list and many of those are believed imprisoned.

For a time, especially in the months preceding the opening of the Paris negotiations, the United States avoided making any possibly inflammatory public comments about North Vietnam's attitude on the prisoner issue, fearing the captured men might suffer, officials explain.

But with passage of time and no success in Paris, the U.S. changed almost to a "what-have-we-got-to-lose" attitude.

With Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird leading the way, American officials have begun castigating the North Vietnamese, focusing on four major demands that:

—The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong identify prisoners they hold.

—Release the seriously sick and injured men.

—Permit impartial inspections of all prisoner of war facilities.

—Permit the free exchange of mail between prisoners and their families.

Pentagon officials say that despite some encouraging pre-Paris comments by Hanoi's chief negotiator, Xuan Thuy, the North Vietnamese have settled on one hard bargaining position on the prisoner issue: That the question of freeing the POWs hinges on agreements to end the war.

Only nine men have been freed by North Vietnam in the past five years, and all came from the same prison camp in the Hanoi area. Hundreds are believed held in about five camps.

Deny Any Killing

Berets Back in U.S.

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Seven Green Berets, against whom charges of murdering an alleged Vietnamese double agent have been dropped, returned to the United States today and headed for their homes.

Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, former commander of the Green Berets in Vietnam and the top-ranking among the men, said he hoped the incident "would not be forgotten. So long as people remember that we were exonerated."

Rheault said he, the five other officers and two enlisted men did not know Thai Khac Chuyen, their alleged victim. He insisted there was no evidence that the man had been killed.

Rheault said he could not understand why the murder and conspiracy charges were filed against them.

Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor announced Monday the charges against all eight had been dropped after the Central Intelligence Agency, for security reasons, declined to let its agents testify. He said the CIA action precluded a fair trial.

With Rheault, of Vineyard Haven, Mass., were Capt. Robert F. Marasco, 27, Bloomfield, N.J.; Maj. Thomas C. Middleton Jr., 29, Jefferson, S.C.; Maj. David Crew, 33, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Capt. Leland J. Brumley, 27, Duncan, Okla.; Capt. Budge E. Williams, 27, Athens, Ga.; and CW02 Edward M. Boyle, 26, of New York.

Separate Flight
All had been charged with murder and conspiracy. Charges were held in abeyance for Boyle and Sgt. I.C. Alvin L. Smith Jr., 41, of Naples, Fla.

Smith was aboard a separate flight to the United States, after his departure from Vietnam was delayed in processing.

Rheault refused to elaborate on his brief statement concerning Thai Khac Chuyen, who the Army charges said was slain June 20 near the Special Forces headquarters at Nha Trang.

As the men stepped from the plane they were greeted by attorney Henry Rothblatt of New York, who represented Crew, Brumley and Boyle. Rothblatt told reporters he feels the men were charged because of a "personal vendetta" by Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Rheault was asked how he would like to see history record the incident. He replied, "I'd rather not see it recorded. It's not a particularly valid historical incident. I think it would better be forgotten, so long as people remember that we were exonerated."

When asked later in the conference, "Do you deny, Colonel, that there was a killing?" Rheault declared: "That is correct."

Col. Robert Rheault acts as spokesman for a group of Green Berets who arrived at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., this morning. Rheault denied knowledge of a double agent who allegedly was slain in Vietnam.

Judge Demands Arrest of Groppi

Priest Insists Capitol Protest Will Continue

MILWAUKEE (AP) — County Judge F. Ryan Duffy Jr. ordered the arrest today of the Rev. James E. Groppi, civil rights activist, who led welfare demonstrators and students in a takeover of the Assembly chambers in the state Capitol.

Duffy ordered the Roman Catholic priest picked up and brought before him for a hearing to determine whether he has violated the terms of his probation.

In Madison, Atty. Gen. Robert Warren said he was "confident" there would be other arrests as a result of the demonstrations. The priest was placed on two year's probation by Judge Duffy on a charge of resisting arrest. The charge resulted from an open housing demonstration in Milwaukee. Police officers testified Groppi kicked and cursed them when they attempted to take him into custody.

Following his conviction after a jury trial, Groppi was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction. Duffy stayed the jail term, however, and placed Groppi on probation which, he said, the court would revoke if during the probationary period Groppi "is arrested again and convicted for any civil disorder, civil disobedience or any other crime whatsoever."

On Sept. 21, Groppi was arrested in suburban Brookfield at the start of the march of welfare recipients to Madison. He was charged with violating a new local anti-picketing ordinance.

The priest and four others were charged after they allegedly demonstrated at the home of Assemblyman Kenneth Merkle.

Chief County Probation Officer Paul Kegel said he believed Groppi's probation would be revoked only if Groppi were convicted of violating a state statute.

In Madison, meanwhile, before Duffy's order, Groppi invited students and welfare recipients to join him today in another protest march into the Wisconsin Capitol, challenging an injunction issued after hundreds of demonstrators clogged the building Monday.

"We'll sit there, we'll sing there, we'll pray there," the Roman Catholic priest declared Tuesday night during a rally which capped a second consecutive day of Capitol Square protests.

Negro Woman Remembers:

'Half of Me Was White'

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pauline Price awoke screaming, her nightgown ablaze.

She ran into the yard, a human torch. Neighbors stifled the flames with a blanket, but half her skin was burned away that night of April 24, 1964. A graft offered her only hope for life.

Mrs. Price is a Negro. When she came out of surgery, almost half her skin was white.

Doctors had covered 40 per cent of her body with the only skin available at the time, from a white male corpse.

Mrs. Price was the first human to receive grafts of skin treated with ribonucleic acid (RNA) as a way of combatting the process that makes the body reject foreign tissue.

Dr. Weidon Jolley, Loma Linda University microbiologist who originated the technique, says he since has used it in seven burn cases and it prolonged life in all but two.

Surgeons under the direction of Dr. Louis L. Smith of Loma Linda used as much as possible of what remained of Mrs. Price's skin to repair burns that showed, on her neck and arms and legs. But there wasn't enough for the rest of her body.

So 40 per cent of the grafted skin came from a white man who died shortly after she entered the hospital. She now has large patches of white skin on her torso, front and back.

Mrs. Price, 46, a tall, slender domestic worker, says she has lived happily, grateful to be alive. She says she has overcome resentment she felt upon learning white skin had replaced black.

Mrs. Pauline Price

National Guard bayonets joined police in a ring around the Capitol Tuesday as demonstrators picketed.

Assemblymen gathered in their damaged chambers came within two votes of adopting a resolution under which Groppi could have been jailed for contempt of the Legislature.

"Sometimes we have to pay for what we want," Groppi told Tuesday night's rally while announcing his intentions of challenging the injunction.

"Moral Obligation"
"You've got a moral obligation to be there for the mothers," he told UW students, referring to the women who had marched from Milwaukee.

Young coeds participating in Tuesday's picketing chanted: "Power to the mothers." Small knots of hecklers canted: "Chow for the shiftless."

During a rally, Groppi led a prayer for a National Guard sergeant who died when a truck carrying Guardsmen to Madison from Milwaukee overturned on Interstate 94.

cause was lost, whatever its chances before the disruptive Monday demonstration.

One disillusioned Democrat, a member of a party that had believed the welfare funding issue would hurt the Republicans in the next elections, expostulated angrily:

"You can count me out, and I will take at least 15 Democrats with me."

Without strong Democratic support, according to all pre-session analysis, Knowles will have only the faintest chance of finding the 51 Assembly votes to enact his bill.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles tells newsmen Tuesday he won't tolerate disruptions of the democratic process. The governor was reacting to a disrupted special session of the Legislature Monday by welfare demonstrators. (AP Wirephoto)

City residents and tourists gaped from the sidewalks as the fully-equipped National Guardsmen formed cordons to screen persons who proposed to enter the building which is one of the principal attractions for visitors to the capital city.

The Capitol resembles a castle whose occupants are worried about another siege and who are determined, as Knowles said, that "nobody will intimidate or coerce the government of Wisconsin."

The governor told a press conference Tuesday afternoon that he remains hopeful about acceptance of his financing package — the ostensible goal of the Groppi raid on the Capitol.

But Knowles apparently knew that they knew the

"I was self-conscious about it for a long time," she said in an interview. "I was afraid of what my friends would think. But it turned out they didn't pay any attention at all. Like me, they're just happy I'm alive."

Mrs. Price spent five months in the University of Southern California County Medical Center, four of them under sedation to ward off pain.

"When the bandages finally came off and I found that about half of me was white, I'll admit I was worried some," she recalled. "But after they told me I had been dying and that the white skin was all that was available, I learned to live with it. I usually wear long sleeved turtle-neck blouses and sweaters and it's hardly noticeable at all."

Mrs. Price said racial prejudice was not the cause of her worry. "It was the discoloration," she said, "nobody wants to be two colors."

The only after effect Mrs. Price feels is "I just can't stand heat. I used to work in a laundry but I had to give that up because anything over 80 degrees makes me feel like

I want to jump out of my skin. Now I do baby sitting, or take care of elderly folks, whatever I can get."

Mrs. Price says the fire started after she went to sleep smoking a cigarette. "I still smoke," she says, "but you can bet I don't smoke in bed."

After five years, Dr. Jolley says he still cannot account for the success of treating burns with skin soaked in a solution of RNA, one of the substances in the nucleus of cells which govern the manufacture of new tissue. It seems to inhibit tissue inflammation.

"The strange thing is that this soaking need be done only to the donor tissue, not to the recipient," he said. "Mrs. Price, for instance, received no RNA injections prior to the operation. So somehow, RNA makes the donor tissue acceptable to the recipient."

"It may be that we have been approaching the problem of transplants from the wrong direction. Instead of using drugs to suppress the immune reaction in the recipient, which leaves him vulnerable to diseases, perhaps the way is to neutralize the donor tissue so the recipient will accept it."

Weekend of Fun

Horse, Buggy Days Slated at Weyauwega

WEYAUWEGA — Area residents and organizations are making plans for the Horse and Buggy Celebration this weekend.

The ninth annual event is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, but local organizations add to the two -fun-filled days by scheduling various activities and fund-raising projects.

Land for Future OSU Conference Center Purchased

Some three and one-half acres of land across the Fox River from the Oshkosh State University campus has been purchased by the WSU-O Foundation as a possible future site for a university conference center, according to Ben Gordon, Foundation president.

The land is bounded by the Fox River, Campbell Road, the Kubastia Marina and Wisconsin Public Service transmission line property. A parking area for the soon-to-be-constructed OSU stadium is situated across Campbell Road from the site.

Arrangements for the land purchase were handled by Foundation Board member Russell Williams.

For some months, the WSU-O Foundation membership has been conducting study and planning sessions on the need for a conference center to serve community individuals and groups involved in university programs conducted by Extension Services, the School of Business Administration and other similar divisions. Tentative plans for a center are tied to the university's centennial in 1971.

Homecoming Set This Weekend For Manawa

MANAWA — The Little Wolf High School homecoming will begin 7:30 p.m. Thursday with a bonfire and snake dance.

Hobo Day will be Friday, highlighted by a homecoming parade at 2:30 p.m.

For the football game Friday night, the Wolves will be challenging the Marion Mustangs. The dance, "Autumn Illusion," will follow the game in the elementary school gym.

Football members of the court are Jerry Griffin, Bill Ernst, Randy Brown and Jim Krueger.

Kindergartners Learn Unit Study First Hand On Visit to Orchard

SHIOCTON — Both morning and afternoon kindergartners went right to the source for their unit study on apples last week when they visited the apple orchard on the Dennis Lemke farm.

Continuing their studies the next day, the two classes visited the home economics department at the high school and observed how apples are used. The youngsters helped the high school class make caramel apples, which they ate during lunch.

Teachers for the classes are Mrs. Erma Tyler and Miss Mary Wiegand.

New London's Steve Trauger finished second in the Oshkosh Invitational small schools cross country race Tuesday with a time of 10:18. The Bulldogs placed fifth. (Post-Crescent Photo)

The Jayettes have planned a rummage sale from 10 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday in the Kadolph Building.

Co-chairmen are Mrs. Bob Radtke and Mrs. Larry Laux. Proceeds will be used for projects in mental health, mental retardation and cerebral palsy.

"Honey Saturday," a state sponsored fund-raising project for mental retardation will be conducted by the Jayees. Bear-shaped containers filled with honey will be for sale at the Honey headquarters in the Kadolph Building.

Miss Kathy Myra, Iola, Wau-paca County Honey Queen, and Miss Pat Aegerter, Jaycee Sweetheart, will be present to assist with the honey sales and also appear in the parade.

Harold Billington is chairman of the project.

A teen dance will be sponsored by the Jayees on Saturday night from 8 to 11:30 p.m. in the Legion Clubhouse. Entertainment will be provided by a local group. Darold Andrist is the chairman.

The Weyauwega-Fremont Little League will sponsor a bake sale beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Kadolph Building, with Mrs. Ralph Gehrke as chairman.

269 Singleton Tops TV Couples At Weyauwega

WEYAUWEGA — Gary Hecker posted a 269 singleton, finishing with a 573 series to lead the way in the TV Couples League Saturday night at Radtke's Recreation.

In the Saturday Night Couples League Verlaime Fuhs rolled a 182 game, en route to a 480 series and Dorothy Hunz finished with a 486.

Randall Kempf led the Minerva Couples League with a 232 game and 554 series. Cristall Larsen had a 457 series and Lillian Vergin a 451.

Diane Sorensen hit a 224 game, finishing with a 562 to lead the Space Couples League Sunday night.

Ruth Wolfe rolled a 192 game and 494 series and Elvis Behn hit a 183 game, finishing with a 485.

Wolf City Fete Chairman Named

NEW LONDON — Joseph Vander Zanden was elected chairman for the 1970 Wolf City Festival when the committee met Tuesday at the Franklin House.

Vander Zanden succeeds W. A. (Bink) Bender as chairman. Dates for the 1970 celebration are July 18-19.

Renamed to the festival committee for two year terms were Bender, Robert Christ and Charles Borchardt. Three other vacancies will probably be filled when the committee meets at 7 a.m. Oct. 28.

Other members of the committee are Emil Gehrke, Mrs. Eugene Fuhrmann, Mrs. Elmer Helgeson, Robert McNulty, Duane Brown, Tim Janke and Harry Emans.

Barnard 607 Set Leads in Brillion

BRILLION — Don Barnard posted a 607 series Monday night to lead American League bowling at Koffarnus Lanes.

Milt Maertz had a 232 game and 601 series and Hal Kabat had a 237 game and 597 series.

Other high scores recorded were Ken Piepenburg's 589 series; Fran Waldecker's 589 series; Dick Larson's 231 game and 564 series and Willis "Bick" Scharf had a 551 series.

Romy's Bar and Bowl leads the league with a 11-1 record followed by Horn Fords and Vogel's, tied with 9-3 records, and Calumet County Cheese-makers team, 7-5.

Kabat's Country Gardens hit the season's high 1,063 game and 2,751 series.

St. Mary Elects Two Hilbert Women to Diocesan Council

HILBERT — Mrs. Arthur Pruess and John Sweere Jr., were elected delegates to the Green Bay Diocesan Council at a special meeting of the St. Mary Catholic Church congregation Sunday.

They will represent the parish at all deanery meetings.

The Green Bay Diocese consists of 14 districts and the delegates will meet at St. Mary Catholic Church, Chilton, Oct. 9 to elect one delegate to represent this district at the Pastoral Council meetings.

Benefit Dance Planned For Man Hurt in Fall

LEBANON — A benefit barn dance is planned from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. at the home of Richard Everts, route 3, New London, who was severely injured when he recently fell 60 feet to the bottom of his silo.

The dance is being sponsored by the Holy Name Society of St. Patrick Catholic Church.

Game With Wrightstown Brillion High School Set for Homecoming

BRILLION — The high school's 22nd homecoming festivities Friday will begin with a 2 p.m. parade including class floats, the "victory bell", cheerleaders, band, David Ennoper and Dani Leadingham who are the king and queen, members of the royal court and varsity football players.

Float themes are "Nobody Can Eat Just One," seniors; "They're in Dutch," juniors; "We're Going to Get You Yet," sophomores and "Cool it, Put the Tigers on Ice," freshmen.

Float judges will be Mrs. Harold Dietrich, Donald Endries, Mrs. Robert Endries, Mrs. Carl Miller and Donald Sommers.

A pep assembly in the high school gym will follow the parade. Nanci Behnke, Pep Club president, will introduce the participants. The program will consist of cheers, music by Supt. Gaylord Unbehauen, Lloyd Jostad, high school principal, Ennoper, Miss Leadingham and Allan Coenen, football coach.

The homecoming court consists of Bob Behnke and Mary Rohrdaz, Bob Bergelin and Barbara Ambrosius, Mark Evel and Chris Dexheimer and Doug Jostad and Nanci Riemer. Other seniors being honored are Tom Delfke, Jaime Gonzalez and Mike Heimke.

All homecoming preparations and festivities are being directed by Norman Dorschner, Pep Club faculty adviser.

Ladies Aid Meeting

ROYALTON — The Congregational United Church of Christ Ladies Aid will meet at 2 p.m. Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Albert Heimke.

'Hymn Fest' to be Staged at Church In Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — An ecumenical "hymn fest" will be conducted at the St. Rose Catholic School hall at 8 p.m. Oct. 15. Choirs and musical church groups from all the different churches in this and the surrounding area have been invited to share the songs and hymns of their churches.

Registrations may be made in advance by calling either Mrs. Ivan Young or Mrs. Larry Brisco. Registrations also will be taken that evening at the door. Any groups or choirs that haven't been contacted and wish to take part are welcome to do so.

It is the first time an event of this kind has been attempted in this area.

Cub Scout Roundtable Has Folk Lore Theme

SHERWOOD — "Folk Lore" will be the theme of the East District Cub Scout Roundtable to be held here at Harrison School beginning at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 9.

Cub Scout leaders and den mothers from all packs in the district will meet to plan activities and craft work for November set around American folk lore and Thanksgiving themes. Displays will be arranged by the Sherwood leaders.

Vision Tests Are Started

Screening Conducted
By Volunteers in New London District

NEW LONDON — Vision screening tests are being conducted this week at the Readfield School.

Mrs. Robert Kamba is chairman and Mrs. John Gillespie and Mrs. Angela Schneider are assisting.

Mrs. Richard McClone, Mrs. James Prohaska, Mrs. Charles Cooney, Mrs. Andrew Bult and Mrs. John Soffa are the testers at the Most Precious Blood Catholic School.

Tests at the Sugar Bush School were conducted by Mrs. Stanley Ziemer, Mrs. James Morien, Mrs. Robert Dailey and Mrs. Douglas Thoma.

Parkview Elementary tests were conducted by Mrs. Robert Gabriel, Mrs. Harold Markman, Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mrs. James Cristy, Mrs. Jeff Jeffers and Mrs. C. A. Jeffers.

Mrs. J. W. Weber, general chairman, said students failing the test will have notices sent home so parents can have their child taken to an eye doctor for an examination.

Mrs. Weber urges that the test be done as soon as possible and that the bottom half of the notice be returned to the child's teacher.

Shiocton Girls Win at Field Hockey Clinic

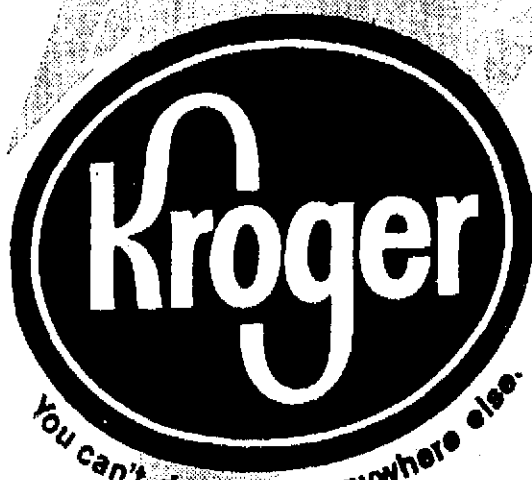

SHIOCTON — Twelve girls from Shiocton High School participated in the field hockey clinic at LaCrosse State University Saturday and won both their games.

The clinic, sponsored by the LaCrosse Field Hockey Club, was attended by 16 teams representing 13 schools in the state.

The Shiocton girls played two 40-minute games, beating Bangor, 1-0, and the Hales Corners, 2-0. Members of the host club served as coaches for the teams.

Accompanying the group was Phyllis Law, physical education instructor, and Laurie Lang.

Too Many Sanitation Rules Make Enforcement Difficult

Waupaca Zoning Administrator Reports Dilemma Resulting From County, State Codes

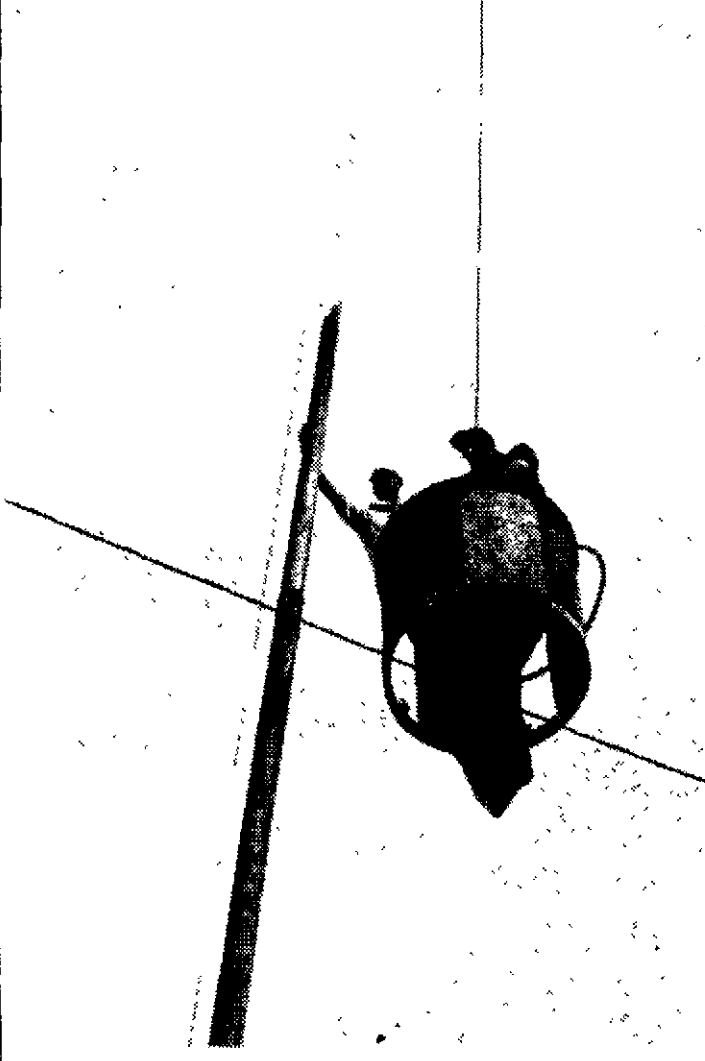

WAUPACA — Rules for sanitation, flood plain zoning, land use and all the rest grows bigger and the county's ability to enforce the code grows more difficult, according to Charles Sherburne, Waupaca County zoning administrator.

He reported the dilemma following the recent organizational meeting of the Association of County Code Administrators of Wisconsin conducted at Wisconsin Rapids.

It was here that the administrators learned that the recently increased fee for a septic system permit to $10 puts $7.50 in the state's general fund and returns $2.50 to the county.

No Budget

The responsibility for inspecting the septic system belongs to the plumbing division of the State Department of Health and

Emergency Fund Created In Clintonville

United Campaign Begins Drive to Meet $17,000 Goal

CLINTONVILLE — As the United Fund Drive opens this week, the board of directors announced they have created an emergency fund of $2,000 from monies already on hand.

This fund is set up in case a need for assistance may arise for some worthy local project which could not be handled by any of the 14 agencies included in United Fund.

"Now what do they do, without funds?" asks Sherburne. He requested the legislative committee of the new organization to clear up all of the consternation about this $10 permit fee and also come up with a proposal which will get some additional help at the county level.

"If the division of plumbing had the funds to make the inspection, it would mean more help for us," Sherburne explained.

"We are operating without a sanitarian and what it adds up to are many inconveniences and long delays. For example, under the new law, the licensed plumber must now come to my office for a permit to construct or alter a septic system. It is time consuming.

"After his work is finished, it may or may not be inspected by me, because there are just so many hours in the day.

"We need more help and we need a change in procedure whereby it will be more clearly stated by the rules eased," he added. "If the county had a full time sanitarian, or a master plumber, it would be simpler for everyone."

There have been some proposals made which may solve all or part of this problem. One is the formation of a tri-county board of health, with Outagamie, Shawano and Waupaca counties. This would include the services of a sanitarian with his salary shared by the three counties.

The new executive board of Association of County Code Administrators of Wisconsin (ACCAW), includes: John Sweet, Wood, County; Robert Irwin, Columbia County; Howard Kruse, Pierce County; Harold Barber, St. Croix County; Bill Hoffmann, Jefferson County; A. A. Lattimar, Bayfield County and Able Jensen, Polk County.

5 Chilton Girls Vie for Queen Of Homecoming

CHILTON — Five senior girls were selected as homecoming queen candidates at the high school for the festivities which start Oct. 10 when the Tigers meet Valders in a Friday night football game.

Vying for the honor of reigning as queen are Pat Woelfel, Nancy Geiger, Kris Euclid, Susi Schmah and Mary Schaefer.

The girls are picked by the seniors on the varsity football team and are voted on by the entire student body. Identity of the queen is not revealed until the half of the game, when she will be crowned by Pat Hoerth, last year's queen.

Floats representing classes and school clubs will be part of the parade which will begin at 2:15 p.m. Friday by the depot and proceed up Main Street and back to the high school.

Prizes for the floats will be presented during half-time ceremonies, when the high school band will present a series of formations to the theme of "Lucky 'Leven," and winning floats will be displayed.

The homecoming dance will end the festivities. There will be no admission charge for the dance which is open to the public.

Dennis Carter is chairman of the budget committee, with Dr. Roger Wilson, co-chairman.

A training session will be conducted by Everett Pierre for all volunteers and their chairmen at 8 p.m. Oct. 8 at the senior high school Little Theater.

Chairmen Listed

The United Fund city chairman is Mrs. John Buehrens. Heading the wards are: One — Mrs. Reuben Nelson, chairman. Mrs. Howard Bovee and Mrs. Anson Maue, co-chairmen; Two — Mrs. Lowell Walker, chairman; Three — Mrs. Max Schrader, chairman; Four — Mrs. George Nuske, chairman; and Five — Mrs. Clarence Quall, chairman, and Mrs. Don Jorgenson, co-chairman.

Dr. William Krueger is chairman of township volunteers. Mrs. Walter Schwenke and August Westfahl are co-chairmen for the Town of Larrabee; Mrs. A. M. Romberg, chairman for Embarrass, and Mrs. Loy Mulrkey, chairman for the Town of Bear Creek.

Friday Inquest Set On Traffic Death Of Kaukauna Girl

An inquest will be held Friday afternoon on circumstances surrounding the traffic death early Sunday of Joanne M. Kiffe, 21, Kaukauna.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps and Dist. Atty. James R. Long said they will hear testimony from nine witnesses. The names of the witnesses were withheld. The inquest, without a jury, will start at 2 p.m. at the courthouse.

Miss Kiffe, an Oshkosh State University student, was killed almost instantly about 2:40 a.m. Sunday when she was struck by a car on County Trunk Q in Kaukauna. Authorities were told she had jumped from the vehicle in which she was a passenger moments before being struck.

County's 10th Fatality Waupaca Woman Dies In Two-Car Accident

WAUPACA — Mrs. George Friberg, 68, route 1, died early Tuesday evening, the victim of a two-car accident six miles west of Waupaca on State 54 and U.S. 10 detour.

She was pronounced dead upon arrival at Riverside Community Hospital and is the county's 10th fatality of the year.

Her husband, who is 69, received a fractured right shoulder and severe face and head lacerations.

According to evidence gathered at the scene by county patrolman John Bonnell, the Fribergs were driving west about 7 p.m. and were making a right turn into the Turner Vegetable Market. Their station wagon was struck from behind by a car driven by Kenneth De Santis, 22, route 2, Weyauwega.

Thrown from Car

The impact drove the Friberg car 30 feet ahead into the ditch on the right and its two passengers were thrown 20 feet beyond the wreckage.

The Friberg vehicle burst into flames and it took about 30 minutes for firefighters to extinguish the blaze.

Se Santis, uninjured in the crash, was arrested on charges of driving while under the influence of an intoxicating beverage. He is being held in the Waupaca County jail, pending further investigation.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Friberg is survived by two daughters, three grandchildren, and one brother. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Center Opens 3 New Stores On South Side

Mayor George Buckley sliced a ribbon at 9 a.m. today to officially open three stores at the Southside Plaza Shopping Center which are a major part of a three-year development costing an estimated $925,000.

Kitz and Pheil Hardware, Peerless Launderers and Cleaners and Richard's Hair Stylists and Beauty Salon were opened.

Kitz and Pheil has 10,000 square feet of floor space in a building that cost $225,000. The Peerless Launderers and Cleaners occupies 3,000 square feet of space and cost $80,000. Richard's Hair Stylists and Beauty Salon totals 15,000 square feet and had a $90,000 price tag.

A Park 'N' Market store and the Southside Pharmacy have operated at the site since 1965. In two months a Plaza Beer and Liquor store also will open.

The development was started three years ago by Theodore Utschig and Sons, Appleton.

Firefighters Worked for more than 30 minutes to extinguish the blazing remains of the station wagon in which Mrs. George Friberg, 68, of route 1, Waupaca lost her life early Tuesday evening. Mrs. Friberg was a passenger in the vehicle driven by her husband that was struck from behind by another car in front of Turners Farm Market at State 54 and U.S. 10 detour near Waupaca. Both the Fribergs were thrown from their car before it burst into flames. (Post-Crescent Photo)

State Studies Plan To Help Small Towns Meet State Orders

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Should privately-owned public utilities be encouraged to provide sewage collection and treatment services in those communities that find the cost of such facilities too high?

Sen. Gerald Lorge of Bear Creek, chairman of the senate committee which handles legislation affecting corporations, believes the idea is worth examination and has disclosed that he has asked state government experts to explore it.

Such private companies would provide the facilities and bill the local customers for their services, under the regulatory authority of the state public service commission, as he explained his tentative plan.

Wisconsin localities without public sewer systems and sewage treatment plants are aware that state government orders for the provision of such facilities are inevitable, under the new pollution control act adopted by the Legislature two years ago.

But Lorge said there remains a considerable number of localities, many of them small and with small taxing resources, that will find financing such improvements difficult or impossible even if it is assumed that authorized state and federal grants of aid are made available to them.

He mentioned the community of Nichols in Outagamie County, which is now proceeding to comply with a state order but with onerous financial burdens resulting, as the legislator described its situation.

Lorge said he believes there are precedents for his plan in other states, and expects soon to have a background study of the idea as the framework for the legislation he proposes to offer.

Scouting Is Theme at Clintonville Rotary Luncheon Meeting

CLINTONVILLE — Scouting was the program theme Monday at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club.

Don Heinisch was the program chairman and he told of his life-long connections with Scouting.

Guest speaker was Ted Jozwiak, who showed slides and told of his experiences last summer at the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Idaho. Other guests were David Gleason and Robert Poole, who with several other Scouts, attended the jamboree with Jozwiak.

Protesters Hurt Themselves Knowles' Appeal Is Stifled

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles' scheduled speech to a special session of the legislature Monday presumably would have been pleasing to the very persons who prevented him from delivering it.

The governor had issued his first special session call in his five years in office to plead for restoration of $33 million in welfare funds trimmed by the lawmakers from the state budget.

The governor's prepared text urged passage of a supplementary measure replacing the welfare money.

But Knowles never got to deliver the plea. Thousands of welfare recipients and their supporters stormed the Capitol and occupied the Assembly chambers, where the session was to have been convened.

Journey on Foot

After making the Milwaukee-to-Madison journey on foot to make sure the legislators would do the "right" thing, the demonstrators apparently fixed it so that the lawmakers, at least temporarily, could do nothing at all.

"Our deeds or misdeeds during this special session will affect the lives and hopes of the people of our time and of generations to come," the governor had planned to say.

"Ignoring the problems will not make them go away," the text continued. "Poverty and despair will not disappear. Blighted cities will not renew themselves. The untrained jobless will not become educated for employment, unless you take the necessary action to make these things possible."

The speech said the urgency of the matter was "reflected in the fact that some 8,000 Wisconsin children are without the financial assistance necessary to assure them of adequate food to eat or clothing to wear."

"Ladies and gentlemen," Knowles had planned to say, "so long as some of our people go to bed hungry or in ill health or in hopelessness every night, nobody in Wisconsin has the right to be indifferent."

Opportunity Destroyed?

Monday night, Knowles issued a statement saying: "Today, a few hundred unruly demonstrators may have destroyed the opportunity for legislative enactment of public assistance and job training programs for the thousands of persons who are in serious need of public assistance. I can't imagine a greater disservice to the poor."

In announcing that he was calling out units of the National Guard to help clear the Capitol, the governor said he was "deeply distressed" by the disruption.

"More than 100,000 needy men, women and children, who would never dream of intentionally breaking the law or destroying public property, could have been helped by the programs contained in my special session recommendation to the legislature," he said.

Groppi's Actions Abhorred Assembly Takeover May Harm Welfare

BY CLIFF MILLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Fox River Valley assemblymen, reacting to Monday's takeover of the State Assembly chamber by the Rev. James Groppi's welfare demonstrators Tuesday, voiced sentiments ranging from outrage at Groppi to sympathy for welfare recipients whose cause may have been hurt by the takeover.

Assemblyman David O. Martin, R-Neenah, called Groppi "completely irresponsible" and said he should be arrested along with other ringleaders, while University of Wisconsin students who took part should be suspended and given hearings to determine which should be expelled for their actions.

But, Martin also said he was determined that when the Legislature begins weighing "the needs of some of the people of the state," the takeover "is not going to have any influence on my thinking."

Changed Minds

"I am quite sure that some legislators who were somewhat sympathetic to these people have changed their minds," at least temporarily, Martin guessed. But he added, "I do not believe, when it all settles down, that we should take it out on the innocent people who did not take part" in the takeover.

Assemblyman William Rogers, D-Kaukauna, agreed on the possible reversal to those seeking restoration of the welfare cuts.

"It seems to me the real losers in this whole thing will be the mothers" on welfare, said Rogers. He added that, "Speaking with the mothers that were here, I am sure they could have done a more convincing job of expressing their needs than Father Groppi and his group."

Lack of Arrests

Several lawmakers were critical of the lack of arrests after police backed by National Guardsmen cleared the chamber after it had been in the demonstrators' control some 11 hours. There also were several who urged steps to prevent a repeat occurrence in the future.

Groppi's group "should have been met at the door" and prevented from taking over this time, Martin said.

Assemblyman Ervin Conradt, R-Shiocton, called it "a travesty of justice" that Groppi and others weren't arrested. Asked to voice his own attitudes toward the proposals to restore reductions made earlier in state welfare programs, Conradt said, "I believe a thorough study should be made." It should be conducted by lawmakers, not "bureaucrats," he added.

Assemblyman Gervase Hephner, D-Chilton, agreed the demonstration "has set back their cause for a number of years." He added that he is working in support of the wishes of his constituents, whom he said indicated in a recent poll that they want "those that are able to work to definitely be taken off the welfare rolls."

Sales Tax Repeat

He added he is working to repeal portions of the sales tax that hits everyone, including welfare clients.

During the disturbance Monday, Assemblyman Jack Steinhilber, R-Oshkosh, was quoted as demanding, "Do you want the orderly process of government taken over by revolutionary punks?" Demanding to have police clear the chambers, Steinhilber added, "We're elected by the people, for God's sake. Why don't we just abdicate and close up shop?"

Assembly Speaker Harold Froehlich, R-Appleton, could not be reached for comment before the Assembly went into session this morning while guardsmen patrolled outside. "We're not going to meet under the threat of intimidation," he said Monday. "We are here to represent four million people, not 400."

Memorial Drive Widening Is Not Scheduled Until 1972

State Engineers Say Project Is Phase of Broad Improvement Plan

Widening Memorial Drive from its present four lanes to six is not scheduled until 1972, according to Public Works Director Robert Miller.

He told the common council's streets and sanitation committee Monday that the project is one portion of a several-part plan for improving state highway routes through Appleton, but that all the proposals depend on currently uncertain financial scheduling.

Miller's report was a result of a meeting he recently had with Leroy Empey, local district engineer for the State Highway Commission. The report prompted Ald. George Schwarzbauer (10th) to agree to put off efforts to alter the state's plans for Memorial Drive south of the Fox River.

Schwarzbauer represents residents living along that portion of the drive, where it is a four-lane thoroughfare divided by a grassy median strip and elm trees dedicated to Appleton war heroes.

The residents have opposed the plans, voicing fear that the six-lane design would lower their property values and threaten the median and trees.

Tentative Priorities
Miller said Empey's office has set the following tentative priority list on Appleton's needs:

—Rebuild State 10 from Bad-

Early Action Urged in Richey Case

Finance Committee Calls for Decision By Police-Fire Panel

NEENAH — The finance committee, concerned with the amount of back pay it might have to dish out, Monday night called for the police and fire commission to make a prompt decision on whether it planned to take its case against Sgt. William Richey to the state Supreme Court.

Circuit Judge William Crane a week ago ruled that Richey had not received a fair hearing before the commission. The commission now has six months to appeal the decision to the Supreme Court.

Ald. Michael Ellis Monday night called for the prompt action because, "if they take the six months, it is going to cost a lot of money and we are not getting a day's work for a day's pay," Ellis commented.

Richey had been discharged from the department in April for "conduct unbecoming a police officer."

If Richey is ordered reinstated to his detective sergeant's position, the city will owe back pay from last March. The finance committee voted to send a letter to the commission urging prompt action on the appeal decision. Ald. Joseph Kraus voted against sending the letter.

The commission met behind closed doors Wednesday but did not come to a decision on their future plans. Commission Chairman Earl Haase said action is planned for the Oct. 20 regular meeting.

High Ranking
But, he also reported, "The Memorial Drive Bridge has a very high priority among all other 'long' bridges in the state."

Memorial Drive residents had argued for replacing the bridge to eliminate present bottlenecks, before widening the roadway approaching the bridge. They said widening the roadway first would only worsen jam ups at the bridge during peak traffic periods.

Miller reported in writing to the committee, stating, "The state engineers will recommend design details which should accommodate traffic for the next 25 years. Their preliminary data indicates the need for a six-lane pavement on Memorial Drive. However, no final commitments have been made and the final acceptance of any plan rests with the City Council."

The state plans ultimately to improve all of State 10 beginning at the Prospect Avenue intersection on the north riverbank and continuing south across the bridge. A six-lane design is needed especially at the Prospect intersection because of heavy traffic turning movements there, Miller said he was told.

Different Use
"Because of the different land use and access conditions to the south, the design of that portion has not as yet been established," Miller reported. He added that during transitional periods, maximum safety precautions will be taken while existing pavement is awaiting changes.

Relocating State 10 or building an additional bridge across the Fox River, two conditions residents had suggested might ease traffic on the drive, are not expected to change Memorial Drive use, according to Miller's report of state engineers' views.

He added, "Current plans indicate that the existing memorial trees will be permitted to remain in place. However, should these trees die for some reason, their replacement by carefully selected ornamental varieties would be encouraged."

Legion Auxiliary Conducts Fall Conference at Camp

CLINTONVILLE — The fall/foreign relations. Mrs. Rex Frickey, Spooner. Plans were outlined for the projects for this year.

Mrs. Lloyd Habermann, Brillion, department president, presided at the session. She stressed the year's theme, "Action and Membership," and explained the need for a larger membership to carry out the various programs of the organization and for the rehabilitation of our veterans.

Harold Bowen, director of Camp American Legion, spoke on rehabilitation and the type of care the veterans receive while at camp. The camp, open only during the summer, had approximately 1,500 veterans as patients this year.

A workshop was conducted in the morning by the different department chairmen. Approximately 125 delegates attended. Program highlights for the afternoon were the reports by the department chairmen for the coming year, including child welfare chairman, Mrs. Katherine Buckeridge, Oconomowoc; junior activities, Mrs. Charles Engels, Shawano; rehabilitation, Mrs. Marion VanEperen, Milwaukee; tray favors, Mrs. Clayton Helmer, Beldenville, and

Library Story Hour Still Open

NEW LONDON — Pre-school children must be registered by Saturday for the library story hour.

Registration is being conducted daily at the public library. The program is a project of the Junior Women's Club.

Sessions, which will be one hour long, meet on Thursday and run for six weeks. The first session will be Oct. 16 and the last on Nov. 20.

Participants must be four years old by Dec. 1 and not yet in kindergarten. Parents will be notified by telephone of the time the sessions will start. Anyone in the New London School District may attend.

Clintonville AAUW Has Potluck Dinner Meeting

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Branch of the American Association of University Women met Monday evening for a potluck dinner at the St. Martin Fellowship Hall.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Ragnar Rollefson, Madison, who discussed "American Foreign Policy... Dilemmas and Realities of Power." She recommended various books and publications that would be of use in developing the topic. It was suggested that a branch choose a specific area, such as the Arab East, and develop it over the year.

Mrs. Glenn Kluth, president, presided at the business meeting. A report was given on the regional workshop Oct. 18 at the Clintonville Senior High School. Mrs. Russell Adams and Mrs. William Stanton, co-chairmen, reported on the successful book sale that was held this past summer.

Legislative Items
Mrs. Alan Mattson presented four bills before the Legislature, concerning support of education, model cities, welfare, and flood control and pollution, for discussion of positions to be taken on.

Church Rummage Sale
LEBANON — A rummage sale will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Oct. 9 in the St. Patrick Catholic Church hall. The St. Agnes Society is sponsoring the sale.

Five Applicants Seek Fire Department Post
KAUKAUNA — Five applications for a position on the fire department were received by the fire and police commission by the Monday deadline for applicants, according to Norman Foxgrover, commission secretary.

Commission members will meet early next week to review applications and possibly interview applicants. One position on the department is open due to the resignation of David Galz who took a position with an area industry.

LU Faculty Disrupted By Students

A resolution, recognizing Oct. 15 as a day devoted to protest the Vietnam War by the academic community was passed Monday by the Lawrence University faculty, but only after two long interruptions by a band of students.

The special meeting approved the resolution urging faculty members to cancel or postpone their classes and administrators to close their offices and students to participate in discussions of the war on that day.

The protest, being planned on more than 500 campuses, will take the form of seminars and discussion groups on the Lawrence campus.

Students Interrupt

Prior to this action, however, and a few minutes after the meeting convened, a group of about 15 to 20 youths marched into the room chanting and shouting obscenities, according to a faculty member.

The group was persuaded to leave after some minutes but returned a second time and once more interrupted the meeting. The second interruption reportedly lasted about a half an hour and involved a smaller group. It involved only a handful of students and faculty members talked with them individually.

Their reasons for the interruption were "obscure and unclear," according to Dr. T. S. Smith, president of Lawrence.

Some had reportedly said their intention was to persuade the faculty to adopt at least the resolution, but hopefully something stronger.

Others, however, had stated that their intention was to disrupt the meeting because they felt the resolution was too weak and not worth passing at all, according to one source.

Smith said this morning he has asked the dean of student affairs to prepare a statement of the charges for review. The students will be charged in violation of the Lawrence Community Council's demonstration policy, he said.

Charles Lauter, dean of student affairs, met this morning with a committee of faculty members and students to discuss the kinds of activities which will take place Oct. 15.

The protest is being organized by a national office called the "Vietnam Moratorium Committee," which is staffed by veterans of the Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy presidential campaigns.

The moratorium protest action is designed to escalate each month with a two-day suspension in November, three in December and continuing until American action in Vietnam is ended.

Sewing Bee Slated At St. Rose Catholic

He said also that he recently had a complaint from a woman church member who was interested in upholding the law, and I feel that the amount of her allowances, courts should hold this man accountable for this breach of the value equivalents of free medical care, drugs and other discipline of the Catholic church, are within $75 a month of as one of its proofs of the faith."

Grover said, "as far as I am concerned, throw them out until revolutionary."

Hearty Response
Grover got a hearty response from both sides of the political aisle in the assembly when he denounced the siege of the capitol by a mob of demon-
